FIVE MINISTERS ON BRITAIN'S NEW WAR COMMITTEE

Premier Asquith, Balfour, Lloyd George, Bonar Law and McKenna Will Direct Activities in Kitchener's Absence.

Foreign Secretary Grey Tells House of Commons He Wanted to Resign When Haldane Quit.

Berlin Admits von Hindenburg Has Evacuated Forest Near Riga—Advance in Serbia Continues.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Great Britain's new war committee of the Cabinet, during the temporary absence of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, will be officially announced today, will consist of Premier Asquith, Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, David Lloyd George, Minister of Munitions, Andrew Bonar Law, Secretary for the Colonies, and Reginald McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons this afternoon that he himself had expressed a desire to resign at the time Viscount Haldane left the Cabinet.

"But for a crisis in the public affairs I would have done so," he said.

Sir Edward declared he regarded Lord Haldane's resignation as a loss to the public service. He said he regretted there had been no opportunity to utilize Viscount Haldane's services in the Foreign Office.

When the coalition Cabinet was formed last May Viscount Haldane was succeeded as Lord High Chancellor by Baron Buckmaster of Cheddington.

Premier Asquith, answering a similar question, also paid a word of tribute to Viscount Haldane, saying: "He rendered an inestimable service when in the War Office."

Replying to a request to lay the papers on the table respecting the Antwerp expedition, Premier Asquith declined, while the war was in progress. He added:

"Mr. Churchill (formerly First Lord of the Admiralty) may treat with indifference the allegations against him. He has a good record and will be amply justified when the full story is told."

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—By wireless to Sarajevo.—German troops have systematically evacuated the forest district to the west and southwest of Shioh, west of Riga, because it has been transformed into swamps by the rains, says the official announcement made today at army headquarters.

Bulgarian troops commanded by Gen. Boyadjeff have crossed the Morava River in Serbia at several places, according to the official statement. In the mountains south of the Western Morava, 4000 Serbians have been made prisoners.

At a point to the west of Riga, the statements add, Field Marshal von Hindenburg yesterday repulsed Russian attacks which were supported by three ships. To the southeast of Riga 100 Russians were made prisoners.

Gen. von Linsingen's Austro-Hungarian troops, assisted by German artillery, according to the announcement, have thrown the Russians from Kocushnoka.

RUSSIAN FORCE NEARS TEHERAN

Germans, Austrians and Turks Prepare to Leave Persian Capital.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 11.—Latest advice received in Teheran, Persia, according to a dispatch from that city, says a Russian force is within 45 miles of Teheran and indications are that the Germans, Austrians and Turks in the city are preparing to leave, removal of the archives of the German and Austrian legations the American legation being in progress.

2 ARE KILLED AND 36 INJURED IN A KANSAS TORNADO

Storm Sweeps Section of Great Bend, Wrecking Many Buildings and Causing Heavy Loss.

TRAIN NARROWLY ESCAPES

Wind Does Much Damage in Other Parts of State, Nebraska and South Dakota.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—A terrific rain and wind storm, sweeping across Kansas from the Rocky Mountains, developed into a tornado at Great Bend, Kan., last night, where it wrecked scores of homes, demolished three large grain elevators and took a toll of two lives. In addition 36 persons were injured, 25 of them seriously enough to be confined to hospitals today.

The storm cut Great Bend off from communication with the outside world and for a time reports were circulated that there had been great loss of life. The property loss is estimated at $500,000.

Men Hurled Through Air.
Charles H. Smith, a piano salesman, and W. W. Hale, a mill employee, were killed. The most dangerously injured were Mrs. J. J. Kruebaum, Carl Johnson, 12 years old, both of whom were reported dead last night, and J. N. Imel. In the southeast end of the town 40 residences were demolished and a similar number were damaged.

While Western Kansas has many "cyclone cellars," built in previous years when Kansas experienced many high windstorms, few of these places of safety were used. No one considered a tornado possible in November.

Charles Smith, who lost his life, was walking along the street when the storm came. He was picked up bodily by the wind, carried three blocks and hurled into the wreckage of a building. Hale was killed in the destruction of the mill where he was employed.

Gov. Capper called out the Great Bend company of the Kansas National Guard to help in relief work and assist in clearing the debris.

The tornado approached from the southwest and swept through the southern section of Great Bend.

The first building struck in the town was a laundry, situated on the bank of the Arkansas River. From here the big funnel-shaped cloud jumped to the water and electric light plant and then to a cluster of mills, destroying three, and with them wrecking the depot of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway.

City in Darkness.
From there a path several blocks wide and three-quarters of a mile long was cut through the south residence district of the town. With the striking of the electric light plant the city was thrown into darkness, which, with the blinding rain, made the path of the storm almost impossible to follow, causing confusion and terror.

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train No. 5, heavily laden with passengers, just escaped being caught in the storm's path, it having pulled out from the station but a few minutes before that structure was almost destroyed.

Herds of sheep numbering several thousand, being fattened for the market at the edge of town, were scattered, and many killed.

Volunteer searching parties spent the night, under the direction of police authorities, hunting in the debris of houses and business structures for dead and injured.

The greatest damage, aside from that suffered by the Santa Fe Railway and the water and electric company, was done at the plants of the Walnut Creek Milling Co., the Moses Brothers Mill Co., the Hulme Mills and the Rock Grain Co.

Storms in Three States.
A series of storms unusually violent for the time of the year swept across Central Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota last night. Hoisting and Claiflin, towns near Great Bend, felt the effects of the storm, but suffered no serious damage, according to the reports.

SHOTS HUSBAND SHE IS SEPARATED FROM IN HER HOME

Mrs. Della Schuette Seriously Wounded Eugene Schuette at 4035A Blaine Avenue.

BROKE INTO HER FLAT

He Refuses to Open His Eyes When Asked to Identify Assailant at City Hospital.

Mrs. Della Schuette, 28 years old, of 4035A Blaine avenue, shot and seriously wounded her husband, Eugene Schuette of 5095 Cabanne avenue, from whom she is separated, after he had forced his way into her flat at 8 a. m. today. She fired four shots, one of which took effect in Schuette's right chest.

Mrs. Schuette told the police her husband went to her flat this morning and demanded admission. She put her head out of the second-story window and told him to go away. He then forced open the rear door of the flat, she said, and she ran down the front stairway to Mrs. Ira Vance's flat on the first floor.

With a revolver which Mrs. Vance handed to her she went to the rear porch, arriving there just as Schuette came down the rear stairs.

Mrs. Schuette told policemen she first fired in the air to frighten her husband, but that when he advanced on her, she pointed the revolver at him and pulled the trigger four times.

FEDERAL RURAL SANITATION BUREAU TO BE SET UP HERE

Headquarters for the Government Work Will Be in the Old Marine Hospital.

St. Louis is to become headquarters of the Federal Government rural sanitation work. Dr. M. J. White, who is in charge of the Marine Hospital, will be in charge, for a time at least. The new bureau will bring 10 to 12 expert chemists to St. Louis and call for an annual appropriation of $30,000 to $50,000 from the fund set aside for national sanitation work.

Dr. White said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter that setting of about 10 rooms in the old Marine Hospital building for the new force would be begun at once.

Heretofore the hygiene laboratory has been at Washington, D. C., but Government officials have decided that the work can be done better from St. Louis as a central point. New Orleans has a station for research into prevention of malaria. Savannah, Ga., has a station for investigation of pellagra, and Pittsburgh, Pa., has one for work in industrial sanitation.

Dr. L. L. Lumsden, coming here. The entire sanitation work of the Government is in charge of Dr. L. L. Lumsden of Washington, who will come to St. Louis to aid in establishing the new bureau.

The work of rural sanitation by the Government, Dr. White said, grew out of an epidemic of malaria, seven years ago, in North Yakima, Wash. About 3000 persons were about to give up their homes. The Government sent physicians and chemists, who stamped out the disease. Since then rural sanitation has been regarded as a distinct class of Government work.

Dr. White said that in many rural communities there was great need of instruction in sanitation. He said some districts were much more healthful than cities, but, as a general rule, there was more danger of the spread of infectious disease in the country than in the city.

Need of Rural Sanitation.
"The great need of most rural districts," Dr. White said, "is common sense sanitation. The teaching of this is the great work of the bureau, together with the giving of aid when required, and study into the causes of infectious diseases in rural communities."

Up to the present the work of the rural sanitation force in Washington has been confined largely to Alabama, Maryland, North Carolina and Iowa. With the establishment of an enlarged bureau in St. Louis, Dr. White said that the work would become nationwide.

Rules to-Found Pumpkins.
A 70-pound pumpkin was taken to Alton yesterday which followed the destruction of the Lusitania and the Arabia because of a belief that the Ancona was attempting to escape.

Ambassador Page said the probable victims of the tragedy were Alexander Fattatino, his wife and four children of New York and Mrs. Frances Mascolo and about 20 unnamed third-class passengers.

Mrs. Cecil L. Griel of New York was named as one of the known American survivors.

Mrs. Griel, a well-known physician, was a medical director of the Manhattan Trade School, but had resigned that post and spent much time traveling abroad studying the hospital systems of Europe. Since the war began she has been in Italy working in a hospital for convalescent soldiers at Bari.

Ancona Officer Says Ship Was Sunk When Many Remained Aboard.

CAPE BON, Tunis, Nov. 10.—One of the Ancona's officers named Salveini, telling of the attack on the ship, says that toward noon he sighted two submarines.

The officer declares both submarines flew the Austrian colors, but several other survivors affirm that the flag was struck and replaced by the German colors as soon as the liner was sighted.

The nearest submarine was about 300 feet long and carried three-inch guns on her bow and stern. The other submarine drew across the Ancona's bow to prevent any attempt at escape. The Ancona's officer said:

"At the first shot the captain of the Ancona ordered out the boats. The eighth boat hardly had touched the water when the liner was sunk by the head, engulfing the remainder of the passengers and crew who had taken refuge on the poop deck.

"The eight boats, keeping together, steered on a southerly course. After traveling some distance, they sighted a ship with her lights out. The survivors sighted flares and the ship approached them, but the submarines, which were following, turned their searchlights upon her, and she abruptly changed her course and disappeared in the night.

"The boats then separated. Twenty-six persons were landed at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning on the beach at Sidra, about 20 miles from Cape Bon. There they were taken in by the European inhabitants."

Salveini believes the persons who were not in the eight boats inevitably perished.

Another boat, with the captain of the Ancona and 23 other persons, was picked up this morning on Zembra Island by the lighthouse tender from Cape Bon, while searching the coast for survivors.

23 ON TRANSPORT KILLED BY FIRE OF SUBMARINE

Undersea Activity in Mediterranean Continues—Two British and a French Ship Sunk.

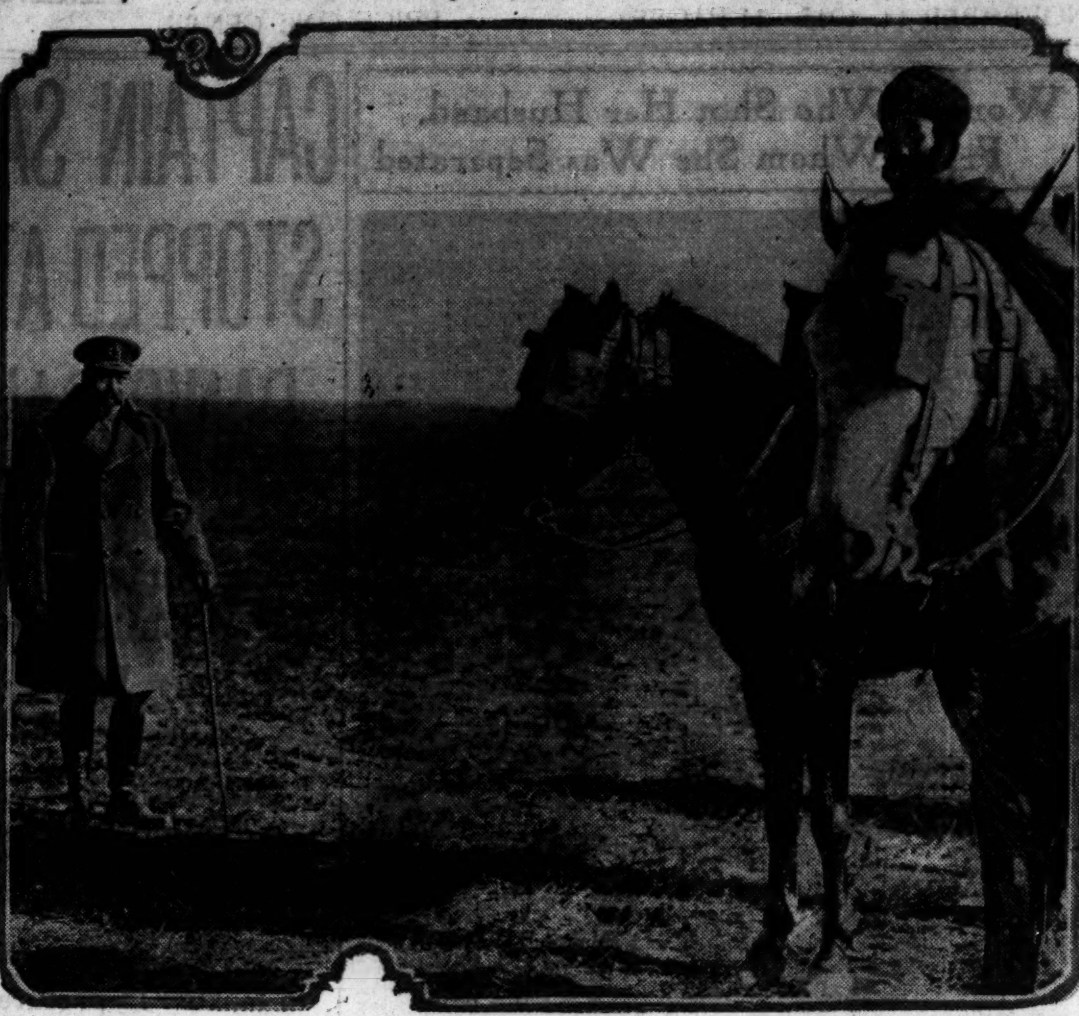

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The submarine activity in the Mediterranean is emphasized by attacks on army and merchant craft, reports of which have come in from the East at intervals.

The French steamer France was sent to the bottom by a submarine Sunday. Four men out of the crew of 73 were wounded, but all were rescued and landed safely at Cagliari, on the southern coast of Sardinia.

First reports gave the impression that the vessel sent to the bottom was the 3,000-ton steamer France, which was taken about of the passenger service early in the war, but later it was found that it was the 400-ton vessel of the same name owned by a company in Marseilles.

It had been plying between the French coast and Africa coast.

WOULD PUNISH GENERALS FOR THE SUVA DISASTER

Commander in British Royal Naval Reserve Says Reverse There Was Severe.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Joshua C. Wedgwood, a commander in the Royal Naval Reserve, who has just received the distinguished service order for his services in the Dardanelles, declared yesterday in the House of Commons that he approved the inception of the Dardanelles campaign, "even though it was a gamble."

If it had succeeded, the effect on the war would have been decisive and it was worth the risk. He declined to blame either the Cabinet or Winston Spencer Churchill for the initiation of the campaign.

The Suva Bay expedition was a very unfortunate affair and he complained that although there had been a severe reverse there, the country had been kept in entire ignorance of it. The general responsible, he declared, ought to be dealt with in the same manner as those responsible for the military failure in France had been.

Commander Wedgwood viewed with misgivings the relations with Greece and urged that a large force be sent to Serbia.

HOCKING SEIZED TO DETERMINE ENEMY-OWNERSHIP QUESTION

Transatlantic Line Officials Declare That All Shares Are Held by Americans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Great Britain has informed the United States that the object of the detention of the American steamship Hocking, seized by a British prize crew and taken to Halifax, where she is awaiting prize court action, was to determine whether the vessel was enemy-owned, although flying the American flag.

The Hocking is owned by the Transatlantic Co. of New York, 11 of whose ships, put under the American flag since the war, are on the "suspected" list. The company has protested to the State Department that as one of its vessels already had been condemned by a French prize court, it was unwilling to allow the other to go to sea until the attitude of the allied governments was more definitely known.

Transatlantic line officials say the stock of the corporation is all American-owned. The vessel seized by the French was the Solvay, which was condemned "by default."

NEW MILL TAX PROPOSAL

Compromise Suggestion Made to West End Business Men.

A resolution introduced at last night's meeting of the West End Business Men's Association by Ephraim Kaplan, the association's attorney, proposed a mill tax limitation compromise under which the United Railways Co. would be required to withdraw its pending appeal and pay the back tax in full, with the understanding that it would be permitted to divert future mill tax payments to the construction of additions and extensions to its system. It was referred to the directors.

George E. Dickman recently suggested that the company be required to pay $1,000,000 of the mill tax and devote $750,000 to betterments, and the future be permitted to spend the balance of each annual mill tax payment on betterments.

were told there was nothing to be added to Premier Asquith's remark made at the Guild Hall yesterday, that Lord Kitchener had gone to "survey at close quarters and in intimate conference with the representatives of our allies the whole situation in the Eastern theater."

The story that Kitchener has gone to the East to suppress a revolution in India is said to have originated in Germany.

It is declared this story is absolutely untrue, that there is no revolution to be quelled and that conditions in India are more than satisfactory.

Cavalry Raid Caused Erroneous Report.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—It is now definitely established that the French are not in possession of the Serbian town of Velea, a daring cavalry raid which apparently reached at least the environs of the place being responsible for the erroneous report that the town had been wrested from the Bulgars.

It is unofficially reported that both wings of the Bulgarian forces invading Macedonia are menaced by the Anglo-French advance, while the Serbians are said to have resumed the offensive in the region of Babuna Pass, where they recently won an important success. The Serbians are making a stand there and it is also reported that they have established complete communication with the French. This report, if true, insures the temporary safety of Monastir, where a condition approaching panic has been prevailing. Monastir has a large Bulgarian population and it was feared some of the inhabitants might join the bands of Bulgarian irregulars, which on several occasions lately have threatened the city.

"DAREDEVIL DICK" OF JITNEY FLEET IS FINED $500

Ernest Borchers, Caught Speeding by Police "Ford Skipper" Convicted Fourth Time.

Ernest Borchers of 3619 Cass avenue, the Daredevil Dick of the jitney fleet, was fined $500 by Judge Hogan this morning for his fourth proven violation of the speed law within 6 months.

The policemen, running the "Ford skipper," as the new police vehicle of pursuit is called by the jitney drivers, overhauled Borchers at twenty-first and Olive streets at 1:30 Sunday morning, after having pursued him from Leffingwell avenue. He was giving him the maximum fine, took into consideration the fact that he was fined $5 June 28 for speeding, $15 July 9 and $200 Aug. 30. The $200 fine was appealed, and the case was dismissed for want of further prosecution in Judge Clark's division of the Court of Criminal Correction. He was previously fined for having no lights, and for breaking the traffic ordinance.

The record of the Court of Criminal Correction shows that the dismissal of the $200 case was on the recommendation of Associate City Counselor Norman J. Sadler. Sadler said today he did not remember the case, but he assumed that the motor cycle policeman who was the prosecuting witness did not appear.

GERMAN PAPERS URGE THAT U. S. BACK UP NOTE

Tone of Document to England Admired, but Some Fear Nothing Will Come of It.

"STAND OF AMERICA JUST"

Long Friendship of This Nation for England Expected to Be Factor in Negotiation.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 11.—With a more complete summary of the American note at their disposal, the German newspaper comment upon it at greater length. The general tone is one of satisfaction that President Wilson used such energetic language, but doubt is expressed whether corresponding deeds will follow.

The London Anzeiger regards the note as worthy of a place beside those sent to Germany as regards the gravity of the language and the exhaustiveness of the complaints made.

"We hear in it," says the Anzeiger, "the unvarnished truth about Great Britain's rape of neutral trade, her disregard of all international law and her shabby manner of conducting war at sea. This picture of the real British character, drawn by a neutral pen, will be valuable for all time, whatever practical results the Americans achieve with their protests and complaints."

The Tagblatt says the note is in sharper language than is usual between the United States and Great Britain, but that for the present, there are only sharp words and nothing more, although there is no reason to doubt that the Americans are very serious in their complaints.

"Great Britain has placed under guard," it adds, "not only the trade of sincerely neutral countries, but that of her helpful friend America and we can easily believe the citizens of an ostensibly free and great republic take pleasure in this violation of a blood relation, with all its petty vexations and hindrances."

"Hay Pass From Words to Deeds." Discussing the paper blockade the Tagblatt declares further:

"The question remains, what emphasis America is willing to give to this declaration. It is not enough to decide to open a more or less politely conducted academic discussion about blockades and people's rights, then everything assuredly will remain unchanged, in practice. It might happen, however, that the note will intensify the resistance of really free Americans against British guardianship in an unexpected manner and that the President will then see himself compelled, against his will, to pass from words to deeds. No doubt in such a case he would have the support of malcontents and peace-loving Americans."

The Kreuz Zeitung finds the note gratifying, but has very little confidence that it will lead to any practical results and says this is the universal view of the German press, a view which is expressed by the expressions of British newspapers.

The Kreuz Zeitung expects, however, that Great Britain will not rebuff America as brusquely as British newspaper comment forecasts, but will adopt a policy of delay.

The Tagliche Rundschau declares that while the note gives only words, which, contrasted with the American Government has done hitherto, have almost the effect of action. It thinks, however, that America has waited too long and adds:

"London will be unwilling to believe that America really is in a deadly earnest with its claims and demands or that behind these earnest words stands a resolution for earnest action. Through his unlimited yieldingness Mr. Wilson has used up too much of his moral credit. It is doubtful, therefore, whether British will honor his demands. Nevertheless, his language leaves scarcely anything to be desired. He bluntly calls a British spade a spade and voices the feelings of American merchants, manufacturers and shippers, who have been injured by Great Britain's tyranny at sea. His complaints about systematic abolition of all international law and all neutral rights are comprehensive, clearly outlined and stated with firmness."

Paper Doubts Serious Intent.

The Reinische Westfalsche Zeitung says: "After all we have experienced from the United States since the war began, we are no longer able to cherish the conviction that the note sent to Great Britain, in which the American Government formulates and sharply emphasizes certain demands, is seriously meant. A country like America, which not only officially has shown the British the greatest good will, but which has an ammunition department for our enemies, enabling them to continue the war, cannot possibly have any interest in taking a decided stand against its ally, who undoubtedly has undertaken corresponding obligations for the future."

Referring to President Wilson's discussion of the freedom of the seas, the paper says:

"If Mr. Wilson really intended seriously to defend this freedom against violation by Great Britain and other countries he could have found opportunities enough since the war began to make this his main point of attack. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow."

will be laid on the shelf with the others, without having achieved anything. But the American Government has saved its face, and that was the sole purpose of the operation."

The Boursen Zeitung says it regrets this is the case, for the viewpoint of the note has high importance for neutral commerce. But, it adds, Great Britain bows only before death, and these are not to be expected from America."

Views of Frankfurter Zeitung. Dispatches from Frankfurt quote the Frankfurter Zeitung as follows:

"The American legal standpoint is incontestable. American trade is suffering in the most severe fashion under the arbitrary domination which Great Britain exercises over the seas, by means of its fleet. This domination, while despotism, is ineffective, because the Baltic is a closed sea to the British fleet, which keeps out of it for good reasons."

"It is true we read recently in British papers that the fact a couple of British submarines had penetrated the Baltic showed this sea, too, must submit to British supremacy, but this is ridiculous nonsense, apparently printed only to throw sand in the eyes of Americans. These papers ignore the fact that according to international law, a blockade is permissible only when it can be exercised on the spot, in a blockaded sea."

"It is no wonder the London Times immediately reached the conclusion that Mr. Wilson's note lacks any deep comprehension or grasp of the subject, that it is not statesmanlike, but superficial, illogical and out of harmony with the traditions of the American republic. The paper seems to regard as traditions the United States' habit of allowing itself to be led around without resistance, on the apron strings of Great Britain and British interests."

"What would America have said, in the diplomatic arena, if Germany as the United States, a leading German newspaper had expressed itself with the same incivility regarding the President?"

"The American note contains the statement that the United States assumes without hesitation the role of defender of the rights of neutrals. This is a brilliantly chosen and incontestable standpoint. Only results will show, however, whether this proud declaration will correspond in deed with the energy of its words, or whether it will be decided to shelve the subject for later Congresses, after peace has been restored and the world has many other things to consider than questions of maritime rights."

Views of Hamburg Paper.

The Fremdenblatt, published in Hamburg, points to the similarity of tone and theme of the note to England to communications sent to Germany, but the newspaper holds that judgment upon the note must depend, not on the phraseology, but on how it is translated into action. Continuing, the Fremdenblatt says:

"The same Wilson speaks here as spoke in the notes we received from him. He expresses the same conception of inviolable rights of neutrals to a free intercourse, without being hampered by the war. It will surprise many that Mr. Wilson, regarding whose personal sympathies we entertain no doubt, has maintained this principle in such energetic words against Great Britain and it is indeed noteworthy that he does not suppress his penchant for vigorous phrases, but demands cessation of the burdensome and illegal practices and challenges the validity of the 'ostensible' British blockade."

"We must also credit him with consistency, particularly where he upholds the old thesis of illegality of prize making that Mr. Wilson, regarding whose personal sympathies we entertain no doubt, has maintained this principle in such energetic words against Great Britain and it is indeed noteworthy that he does not suppress his penchant for vigorous phrases, but demands cessation of the burdensome and illegal practices and challenges the validity of the 'ostensible' British blockade."

STONE WANTS U. S. STRONG ENOUGH FOR AN OFFENSIVE

Missouri Senator Favors a Navy Strong Enough to Go Out on High Seas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—"I go farther than most advocates of national preparedness, who say the nation should be equipped to defend itself against attack; I want this country prepared to take the offensive when it may be necessary," declared Senator Stone, Democrat of Missouri, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, who returned to the capital today for the Sixty-fourth Congress.

"I speak particularly for the navy," the Senator continued. "I want a navy powerful enough not only to defend our coasts, but strong enough to go out on the high seas, for there might come a time when offensive action would be required. A navy strong enough for offense is a mighty guarantee against attack by other nations."

Republicans in Congress will be consulted by President Wilson on the administration plans for national defense before the opening of the coming Congress. In line with his announcement in his Manhattan Club speech in New York last week, the President will appeal to men of all parties for legislation to strengthen the army and navy.

Officials today took the view that the President is hopeful that his plans will receive the support of Republicans and thus overcome the opposition of some Democrats, led by former Secretary Bryan.

The President has already received messages from a number of Republicans outside of Congress approving his defense plans.

GETS TWO YEARS, LOSES BRIDE

Girl on Hand to Marry Burglar If Set Free.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—When the case of Thomas King came up in the Criminal Court yesterday afternoon life held out two futures for him. If he should be found guilty of burglary and charged he would probably get two years for robbery. If cleared of the charge he was to marry Miss Viola Boehm of St. Louis, who told the Prosecutor that she had come to Kansas City to marry King if he got out of his trouble. The jury decided it. He was found guilty and got the two years instead of the bride.

CAILLAUX AT THE HAGUE

Berlin Says Baron d'Estournelles de Constant Was With Him.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 11.—In connection with the statement that Joseph Caillaux, former French Premier, recently visited The Hague, the Frankfurter Zeitung says he was accompanied by Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, widely known as a leader in the movement for international arbitration.

This is the first intimation that Caillaux had visited The Hague. He has not been active in France since his recall in March from a mission to South America.

GRAND JURY TO VOTE SHORTLY ON TWO GRAFT CASES

Street Department Employee Denies He Accepted "Pipe Line" Rate on His Water Bill.

An inspector in the Street Department, accused by one of the graft ring in the water rates office of having accepted the "pipe line rate," an illegal discount of 23 per cent on a water bill, denied the charge yesterday when questioned by Director of Streets Talbert. The inspector said he had paid his bill, amounting to $7.50, in full, but had not asked for a receipt. When notified several days ago that there was no record that he had paid his bill, the inspector paid the license in full, to avoid having his water turned off. Director Talbert said he would investigate the inspector's story further.

Robert R. Mahon, a former inspector in the Water Rates office, who was indicted on his confession that he was one of a graft ring of five, is the accused by the Street Inspector. Mahon said he approached the Street Division member when he was at a window in the Water Rates office, and told him that instead of the 30 per cent discount allowed by the city, he could obtain the "pipe line rate." Mahon said the $5 which the inspector paid him was turned into the graft pool and divided among the five.

The grand jury has indicted two of those named by Mahon as his associates in the graft ring, and it is said a vote will be taken shortly on the other two named. The grand jurors yesterday heard further testimony by F. J. C. Battell, dismissed cashier, regarding the $350 loan which Battell says he made to Claude D. Burton, his superior, from the cash drawer.

GOOD ROADS MEN BOOST $3,000,000 COUNTY BOND PLAN

Effort to Be Made to Reach Each of the 16,000 Voters in the Campaign.

TWO-THIRD VOTE NEEDED

Unless Bond Issue Passes Increased Taxes Necessary for Highway Improvement.

The campaign for the $3,000,000 good roads bond issue in St. Louis county is being pushed vigorously by the St. Louis County Permanent Roads and Bridge Association, of which F. P. Lewis of Eureka, president of the State Board of Agriculture, is chairman. An effort will be made to reach personally, or by explanatory literature, each of the 16,000 voters in St. Louis county to this end.

As a two-thirds vote will be necessary to carry the bond issue, the officials of the Good Roads Association realize that a most thorough campaign will be necessary for success. County officials at Clayton say that unless the bond issue is passed it will be necessary to increase taxes to produce sufficient revenues to keep the roads in repair, and to construct the necessary permanent roads.

County Valuation $68,000,000. The assessed valuation of St. Louis county is now $68,000,000. If the assessed valuation is increased, to meet the demand for additional money for the road fund, a large portion of the additional taxes will go into the State treasury, and the county will derive no direct benefit.

The State's proportion of the tax is 15 cents, the county's 35 cents, while there is a special road tax of 25 cents on the $100 valuation. The average school tax for the 88 districts of the county is 48 cents, the rate varying from 5 cents in some districts, to $1.35 in others. State Senator A. E. L. Gardner, one of the active members of the Good Roads Association, said that the $3,000,000 assessment was presumed to represent 60 per cent of the real value of the property of the county. As a matter of fact, it represented only 40 per cent, he said. County officials heretofore have not felt the necessity of taxing property on more than 40 per cent of its valuation, but they have the power, under the law, to assess at full value.

Senator Gardner said that if the bond issue carried the tax rate would be increased 42 cents on the $100 valuation the first year, but that this would be reduced to 22 cents before the expiration of the 20-year period of the bond issue.

Producers Figures. He produced figures to show that the tax on a house actually worth $9000 would amount to only $75 a year, on the basis of the present assessment, including the bond issue charges, while the tax would amount to $88.90 a year if the bond issue should fail and the tax rate should be increased. He also declared that where the assessment basis was raised it never was possible to reduce it.

St. Louis County now pays more taxes to the State than any other county, except Jackson, which includes Kansas City, St. Louis County, the City of St. Louis and Jackson and Buchanan Counties pay into the State treasury 50 per cent of the State's entire revenue. As the assessment of St. Louis County, on the basis of the present valuation, normally increases $200,000 a year, the numerous subdivisions laid out and the many new houses constructed, the valuation will pass the $100,000,000 mark before the bonds become due, even without increasing the assessment from the 40 per cent basis to a 50 or 70 per cent basis.

Leaders in the bond issue movement say the passage of the bond issue would provide good roads for virtually every part of St. Louis County, and immediately, and would put a stop to the heavy drain upon the county revenue for annual maintenance of the roads.

Problem That Causes Anxiety. One problem causing some anxiety is that about one-third of the residents of the county live in incorporated territory. Under State law no money can be spent by the county in the incorporated towns for road building. It has been the practice of the county officials to prepay to the incorporated towns 65 per cent of their road taxes for street improvements. The leaders of the good roads movement are insisting to make agreements with the incorporated communities by which the school districts in which they are located will get their proper share of the bond issue money for road improvement. The main thoroughfares leading through these towns will also be continued as county roads.

County officials say that it may also be necessary to start a campaign for fuller personal tax returns, unless the bond issue should be voted. It is known that not more than 15 per cent of the personal property in the county is listed for taxation. It was said one farmer who is known to be worth about $100,000 in personal property made a return of only $350, while another, who had a herd of fine cattle for which he refused $15 a head, listed them as calves, worth $2 each.

Read Issue Regarded Best. Officials in the county concede there would be no reason for disturbing the status of present assessments on both personal and real property if the bond issue should be carried, as sufficient revenue for all ordinary purposes is produced on the present adjustment.

But with the roads virtually worn out and costing as much as $600 a mile for repairs every year, and with many bridges washed away by recent floods, the demand for money to reconstruct the highways and bridges has become imperative, the officials say. The bond issue plan of raising it was decided upon as being the most economical and practicable.

Owners Held After Fatal Factory Fire in Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The State Industrial Commission has suspended the acting supervising inspector and an inspector because of 10 months' delay in enforcing safety orders designed to remove the fire hazard from the Diamond Candy Co.'s plant in Brooklyn, which burned last Saturday, with a loss of at least 12 lives.

Mrs. Celia Diamond, owner of the building, and her husband, Edward L. Diamond, head of the company, were arrested soon after the fire, on a charge of criminal negligence. At the time of the fire, 10 months after the safety order, the Diamonds had completed the work on inclosing and "fireproofing" the factory on one floor. The "fireproofing" burned like paper.

MAN WHO STOLE AUTOS IN RELAYS GETS TWO YEARS

Two Other Automobile Thieves Sentenced to One Year, and Third Gets 6 Months.

Harold Allen of San Francisco, in Judge Fisher's court today, pleaded guilty on a charge of having stolen an automobile belonging to Alex W. Payne of 5949 Berlin avenue. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Allen, when arrested, admitted that with his wife and 8-month-old baby he had come across the continent in stolen automobiles. He said he stole a machine in each large city between San Francisco and St. Louis, selling one machine just prior to the theft of another. Allen's wife was in court when he pleaded guilty. She wept when sentence was passed on him.

Carl Shelton and Charles Yewell were sentenced to a year in the workhouse on their plea of guilty on a charge of stealing an automobile from Oliver M. Clifford, an officer of the American Wire Co.

Frank Crews pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile tire from Guenzberger, secretary of the West End Business Men's Association, and was sentenced to six months in the workhouse.

LEAHY TELS OF PUTTING HANDLAN OUT OF HIS OFFICE

"I Told Him to Go and He Got," Says Lawyer Suing for Fee in Lemp Divorce Case.

John S. Leahy, who was an attorney for Mrs. Lillian Handlan Lemp in her divorce suit against William J. Lemp, wealthy brewer, in 1903, and who is now suing her for a $500 legal fee, testified this morning in Judge Jones court, that he ordered her father, A. H. Handlan, out of his office, after the disagreement as to the fee had arisen.

Handlan is president of the Handlan-Buck Manufacturing Co. and lives at the St. Regis Apartments, 454 Lindell boulevard. His daughter obtained $100,000 alimony and custody of her son with her divorce.

Leahy's story of the incident came out in a paper exchange of questions and answers with O'Neill Ryan, who is representing Mrs. Lemp in the present suit. Ryan asked Leahy to tell of a conversation between Ryan and Leahy, in Leahy's office, after his claim for a $500 fee had been refused.

Leahy replied that he remembered telling Ryan what he thought of clients who would show ingratitude to a lawyer who had "saved their reputation and won a big fortune for them." He denied having said that he would not have further effort to collect, but said he did say that but for Handlan's conduct he would wipe the slate clean and "charge it to profit and loss."

Advised Handlan to Pay Dillon Bill. He said John Dillon, son of the late Daniel Dillon, who was associated with him as Mrs. Lemp's counsel, called on Handlan with a bill for an additional fee for his father's services, and that Handlan called and told him, Leahy, about it. Leahy said he advised Handlan to pay Dillon something and that Handlan then remarked that Leahy and John Dillon were evidently "in cahoots."

"I then told Mr. Handlan," said Leahy, "that he would better get out of my office, and he got." "The short and simple annals of the poor," remarked Ryan, in comment on the crisp style of Leahy's narrative. Leahy did not smile at this pleasant and Ryan asked him if anything was wrong with his facial muscles.

"To look at you is to smile," said Leahy, his visage still solemn.

Leahy testified yesterday that he and the elder Dillon, now deceased, wished to use a technical charge of desertion in the divorce suit, but that Handlan, who was directing their efforts, objected to this program, saying he wished to "let things up." According to Leahy, serious allegations were placed in the petition, and a bitter legal fight was precipitated. Yet, when the decree was granted, it was on the ground of desertion alone.

Leahy suggested $500,000 Alimony. He said he told of his attempt to settle the matter of alimony without a contest and said he asked Lemp to settle $300,000 on his wife. Lemp replied, he said, that this was one-third his fortune, and that his business was in a precarious condition because of the spread of prohibition.

Ryan tried to show that some of the legal consultations with Handlan, which Leahy includes in the bill he is now trying to collect, were merely social visits. Leahy said he and Handlan had been friends, and that the first request for his services in a prospective divorce suit came while they were at lunch together in November, 1906. He said he was formally retained in March, 1907, though the suit was not filed until a year later.

Mrs. Lemp Says She Owes But $200. Mrs. Lemp denies owing Leahy or his legal firm any balance on the fee, but admits that she owes $200.25 for expenses incurred, which she is willing to pay. Her defense in the present suit is that Leahy and Dillon agreed to handle the divorce case for whatever compensation the court might award them. The court, after hearing testimony as to the value of such legal services, allowed $300, which was divided equally between the lawyers.

Leahy testified that he spent about 120 entire days working on the Lemp case, and that he expected to receive more than $1500. He called on Ryan for testimony to the value of such services, and none made a lower estimate than $500.

His Own Real Estate Is Home Which He Used as Rectory of Mount Carmel Church.

The personal estate of the Rev. Father D. S. Phelan, editor and owner of the Western Watchman and pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, was valued at $16,483.42, according to the inventory filed yesterday in the Probate Court. U. S. ASKS BRITAIN TO EXPLAIN SEARCH OF SHIP AT PROGRESO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Great Britain has been formally asked by the United States for information concerning the recent search of the American ship Zeelandia in the Mexican port of Progreso by a landing party from a British cruiser. Ambassador Page was instructed to make the inquiry through the London Foreign Office.

John W. Gorman, American Consul at Progreso, reported that the British cruiser was lying outside the harbor, presumably waiting to seize the Zeelandia.

The Zeelandia sailed from the United States for Tampico and was reported to have hoisted a German flag at sea, though this was denied by the owners. She is said to have a Mexican crew aboard and a cargo of rosin consigned to Sweden.

WHAT HAPPENS TO THE FOOD YOU EAT?

Does It Ferment, Causing Belching, Sourness, Bilioousness, Nausea, Heartburn? Famous Stomach Prescription Quickly Ends Indigestion and All Such Miseries.

A strong stomach is the source of all health, strength, vigor and physical perfection.

And it follows, that a weak, disarranged, overworked stomach; one that lets the food lie and ferment within its walls, causing heartburn, sick headache, sour food upheaval, bilioousness, belching of gas and other untold miseries of indigestion, is a menace to your well being. For instead of giving nourishment to the system it passes a toxic poison into the blood, which is first indicated by that all-gone feeling, dullness, dizziness, loss of sleep, bad dreams, etc., and the sufferer is started on the road to a general breakdown or nervous prostration.

But, don't despair if you happen to be the unfortunate possessor of one of these poison factories. Just go to Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. or your nearest druggist right away and get that great stomach prescription—MI-O-NA.

MI-O-NA is guaranteed to relieve a distressed, sour or gassy stomach and banish all stomach misery, or money back. It doesn't matter how long you have suffered, this offer holds good.

HADLEY SOON TO ENTER LISTS FOR U. S. SENATORSHIP

Formal Announcement Postponed on Account of Death of Son of Walter S. Dickey.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 11.—It became definitely known here today that Herbert S. Hadley, former Governor, had decided to be a candidate against Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. The former Governor, who is here on legal business before the Public Service Commission, had expected formally to announce his candidacy before returning to Kansas City, but changed his plans because of the death Tuesday of Dickey's son, Grant.

Hadley said last night that he would have nothing to say for publication about his political plans at present, but that in view of requests made by many of his friends that he become a candidate, he would in the near future state publicly what he would do.

The former Governor, who is very popular here because of his activities in support of the bond issue for the new capitol, has met scores of Jefferson City men and become involved in the mix-up of gubernatorial race. Informed politicians say that Hadley would prefer Judge Henry Lamm of Sedalia, but the Judge's disinclination to make an active campaign has made his candidacy doubtful.

Friends of Hadley say that his next choice would be Mayor Hugh McIndoe of Joplin. The two have been close friends for many years and "always have been together politically." The Jefferson City Hadley crowd would like to see him favor the candidacy of Mayor Cecil W. Thomas of Jefferson City, but it is said that Hadley does not believe Thomas has sufficient strength outside of Jefferson City to be a formidable factor in the race.

FATAL WRECK BLAME PLACED

Kansas Commission Says Diligence Would Have Saved 11 Lives.
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 11.—Had the section foreman and bridge inspector used due diligence, the Union Pacific wreck at Randolph, Kan., on Oct. 17, in which 11 persons lost their lives, would not have occurred, according to a decision by the State Utilities Commission and the State Labor Commissioner today.
A gasoline motor car plunged into a washout where heavy rains the day before had undermined the track at the approach to a creek bridge. Besides the killed, nearly 40 persons were injured. The commission announced that water had been undermining the wing wall at the end of the bridge for several months.

BEISBARTH WAS BOND TRUSTEE FOR LONG-RIDGELY FIRM

Broadway Bank Was Place for Payment of Interest on Securities Being Investigated.

Examination of the affairs of the closed Broadway Bank, Broadway and Bond street, has shown that Edward BeisbARTH, president of the bank, was trustee for a $500,000 bond issue of the Wayne Farms Co., now under investigation by postal inspectors. The Broadway Bank is designated, in the bonds, as the place of payment.
The Wayne Farms Co. was formed to deal in land in Wayne County, and in other Southeast Missouri counties. These lands were the former holdings of the Orah Land Investment Co., in connection with which John T. Long and Mrs. Orah Ridgely have been indicted and are in St. Louis and Illinois courts, for sums aggregating more than $200,000, have arisen from these land transactions.

BeisbARTH told a Post-Dispatch reporter that the Broadway Bank did not hold any of the paper of the Wayne Farms Co., and that the institution had not been connected with the land company in a financial way. He said that his connection with the Long-Ridgely schemes had not resulted in the loss of any money either to the bank or himself.

The Wayne Farms Co. was incorporated last June by John Wilson, Charles J. Griffith and William F. Kelly, residents of Southeast Missouri. It is being operated by H. E. Carey of Chicago, president and manager; Edward Bottenberg and David Glass of Rushville, Ill. Bottenberg is secretary. It is incorporated for $500,000, the capital stock being divided into 50,000 shares of the par value of $5. Its land holdings consist of 499 acres conveyed to it by the Orah Land and Investment Co. The lands and other holdings of the company are listed at high figures. A tract of 200 acres, which was sold to the Orah company by the Concrete Investment Co. at $5 an acre is listed at $70 an acre.

UNITED RAILWAYS GIVES $10,000 TO CONVENTION FUND

Money Is to Be Divided Between the Two Big Party Gatherings.

$3000 FROM THE LACLEDE

Canvass of Industries and Actual Signing of Pledges Next Week.

Richard McCulloch, president of the United Railways Co., notified Chairman James E. Smith of the National Conventions Bureau today that the board of directors of the company had authorized a subscription of $5000 to the Republican national convention fund, and a similar amount to the Democratic convention fund. The directors of the Laclede Gas Light Co. yesterday also voted a subscription of $1500 to each convention fund. Union Electric and other public utility corporations of St. Louis will subscribe the balance of the $30,000 fund pledged by the public service interests.

Chairman Smith said that the action of the public utility corporations shows that the different groups of interests are generally subscribing all that has been asked of them. If all the other groups keep up the record, he said, no doubt the full $30,000 would be raised.

He was considerably perturbed today over the inaccurate reports in the morning newspapers to the effect that the $30,000 conventions fund had been pledged. He said that the chairman of different group committees appointed to solicit funds had reported at a meeting at the St. Louis club last night that they would raise the amounts assigned to them, and that if the chairman made good the fund would be raised. Next week has been assigned for the canvass of the different interests and industries for the actual signing up of the pledges to the fund.

At the meeting last night John E. Ritchey and John C. Roberts promised to raise $5000 for each convention from the shoe interests. Vincent J. Gory, representing the florists, said his group had been assigned to subscribe $500, but that he would see that at least $500 was subscribed.

Capt. Henry Leyhe, representing the steamboat lines, said that he would have no difficulty in raising the $500 allotted to his group, and probably could raise considerably more.

Lyman T. Hay, speaking for the hotels, said that $15,000 of the $30,000 subscription assigned against the hotels, already had been subscribed, and that he would be able to get the other $5000.

Frank Y. Gladney promised to raise $500 from the lawyers who are not members of the bar association, while Breckinridge Long is canvassing the members of the bar association for subscriptions. Dr. W. W. Graves promised to get a subscription of $500 from the physicians.

W. C. Anderson of the automobile industry said that he could easily raise the $500 subscription assigned against his line, and probably could get more.

E. F. Blisbee, representing the livestock interests, said he had $3000 already subscribed and would get more.

George J. Tansey promised that the transfer interests would subscribe at least $1000.

Other subscriptions in sight.

W. Julius Podg reported that he would get the $500 subscription assigned against the wholesale hat industry, and Van Dyke Hill promised to raise the $300 subscription asked from the advertising agents.

C. M. McDonald said the Real Estate Exchange would make its subscription of $500.

Charles Hertenstein, representing the Typographical Union, notified Richard S. Hawes, chairman of the finance committee, that he would get a subscription from the labor organizations.

Martin J. Collins promised to raise $1000 from the wholesale paper interests and said he had one-third of the amount already subscribed.

The response to the demands for subscriptions has been so prompt that Chairman Smith said he felt sure the full $30,000 would be actually subscribed by Nov. 20, the date fixed for closing the money-raising campaign.

No part of the money pledged to the conventions fund will be used to pay the expenses of the campaign now being conducted, or to send the committees to Washington. Those who pledge themselves for contributions will not have to pay any money unless one or both of the conventions are obtained for St. Louis.

No money on the pledges, under any conditions, will have to be paid before Jan. 1, 1916.

A meeting of the chairmen and secretaries of the civic, business and improvement associations will be held tonight at the Knights of Columbus Hall, a subscription of $50,000 from the members of these organizations is anticipated.

NEW FRISCO PLAN REDUCES CAPITAL TO VALUE OF ROAD

Reorganization Proposal Puts Fixed Interest Charge Within Earning Capacity.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 11.—The tentative reorganization plan for the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, submitted to the Public Service Commission today, contemplates a sweeping reduction in the capitalization to bring it within the value of the property, and a decrease in the annual fixed interest charge to put it within the earning capacity of the company.

The contraction of the bonded indebtedness bearing a fixed interest is accomplished by forcing holders of the present refunding mortgage bonds and general lien bonds to accept for part of their holdings bonds the interest upon which is payable only out of the income. This would mean that unless the road was paying expenses, no interest would be paid on these bonds.

The plan contemplates that holders of general lien bonds shall accept these income interest bonds instead of 75 per cent of the present holdings, and investors who own refunding mortgage bonds shall give up 25 per cent of their holdings, accepting, instead, new bonds for the same amount.

Reduction in Capitalization.
The new plan provides for a total reduction in capitalization of $29,678,868, or 8.31 per cent. Excluding the bonds of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis, which remain undisturbed, the reduction amounts to 9.82 per cent in the total capitalization.

The reduction in the bonded indebtedness will bring about a reduction of 47.16 per cent, or $118,887,868, in the fixed charge obligation of the road.

Reduction in fixed annual charges will be $5,728,136, or 47.16 per cent of the present annual charges. Reductions in fixed charge obligations of the road, under the new plan, are best shown by comparison with present obligations per mile of the road.

Under the present system, the fixed charge obligations are $67,596.95 per mile of first main track. These bear a fixed annual charge of $369.47.
As a result of the reorganization, the new company will have outstanding fixed charge obligations, secured upon the property of the system, at the rate per mile of first main track owned by the new company of $33,762.54. These will bear a fixed annual charge per mile of $180.42.

Comparison of Obligations.
To emphasize the amount of the fixed charge reduction, attorneys who prepared the reorganization plan set out in comparative columns the fixed charge obligations of the road under the new plan, with similar obligations of the Missouri Pacific, the Iron Mountain and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railways. Compared with the contemplated fixed charge of the new company, which is to be $33,762.54, the Missouri Pacific's obligations amount to $72,912, the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern's $46,070 and the M. K. & T.'s $47,611.

The new plan was submitted to the commission by R. T. Swayne, counsel for the Reorganization Committee; former Judge H. S. Priest, general counsel for the receivers, and W. C. Nixon and J. W. Lusk, receivers. A Douglas, chief accounting officer, W. E. Baird, attorney, and T. A. Hamilton, supervisor of efficiency, attended the hearing. The commission accepted the tentative plan, ordered it filed and announced that it would set a hearing at an early date, giving everybody interested a right to be heard before approving or disapproving the plan.

An assessment of $5 per share of stock is levied by the reorganization plan.

The New Home Treatment for Ugly, Hairy Growths

(Boudier Secret)
Here is a simple yet very effective method for removing hair or fuzz from the face, neck or arms. Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered salicylic acid. Leave this on for 3 or 4 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you are sure to get real salicylic acid.

WOMAN ACQUITTED OF MURDER OF HER HUSBAND'S SLAYER

Arkansas Defendant Testifies 'Credited Taunted Her Until She Lost Reason, and Fired Upon Him.'
BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Mint Milligan was acquitted in Circuit Court here last night of killing Solon Bunch, slayer of her husband, on a plea that Bunch taunted her until she lost her reason and opened fire on him. Mrs. Milligan testified that Bunch removed flowers she had placed on her husband's grave and replaced them with whisky bottles and then jeered her about it. Bunch was killed last August shortly after he had been acquitted of slaying Milligan on a plea of self-defense in a family feud.

JAPAN'S MIKADO JOINS IN ANTIQUE DANCE CEREMONY

Kagura Music, Handed Down From Dimmest Ages, Accompanies Rites in Kioto.

By Associated Press.
KIOTO, Nov. 11.—Following the grand coronation ceremony at the Shikshiden, the antique ceremony of the kagura dance was celebrated today at the Shunkoden Hall in the presence of the whole court.
In the early hours the Shunkoden Hall, wherein reposes the Imperial sanctuary, was decorated appropriately. At the appointed time the dignitaries of State, high military and naval officers, and titled personages and their wives assembled in the waiting hall in the compound of the Imperial palace. They wore the same dress as on the ceremony of the previous day.
Not long after the Crown Prince, the Princess and Princesses of the blood and other members of the Imperial family entered the Gijyoden, a hall adjacent to the Shunkoden. A short interval and then the Emperor slowly made his way from the inner part of the palace, attended by his ministers. His majesty donned his outer robes and washed his hands, as is usual when worshipping before the deity or holy presence. He then took the bamboo brush and the hinoki fan, which were offered by the chamberlains. The members of the suite also changed their dress.
In the meantime the senior coronation officials entered the place of ceremony and took their posts, and those who had assembled in the waiting hall were ushered into the Shunkoden Hall under the guidance of the coronation officials and took the seats assigned to them.

Doors of Imperial Sanctuary Open.
The doors of the Imperial sanctuary were thrown open by the officials in charge to the strains of the kagura music. Next the officials presented the sacred rice and other offerings to the sanctuary, these being placed on the altar. The soft strains of the kagura music were heard continually. Then the chief ritualist attired in full religious costume proceeded before the sanctuary and read a Shinto prayer.
Presently the Imperial train entered the hall, the Emperor being preceded by the grand master of ceremonies and the household minister. After the Emperor came two chamberlains, one holding the sacred sword and the other the Imperial privy seal. They were followed by the lord chamberlain, other chamberlains, the chief aid-de-camp and other aids-de-camp. Behind the Imperial retinue walked the Crown Prince, princes of the blood and other members of the Imperial family and the lord keeper of the privy seal, the chief of the coronation committee bringing up the rear.

Solemn and Beautiful Scene.
When the Emperor had taken his seat on the Imperial throne the chamberlains who held the sacred sword and the Imperial seal placed them on the tables near by. The scene was one of great beauty and color, with the dominating note solemnity.
The ceremony proper then began. It was concluded in a short space of time. The Emperor rose from his seat, and, while court rituals were ringing the sacred bells, made a respectful bow to the sanctuary. The same formalities were observed by the Crown Prince, princes and princesses of the blood and other members of the Imperial family.
The court musicians then resumed the kagura music and the Emperor and members of the Imperial house retired in the order observed upon their entry. At the close of the ceremony all participants either offered worship or showed their respect before the sanctuary. The offerings placed on the altar were removed and taken away by the officials to the strains of the kagura, and the door of the sanctuary was closed.

The kagura music is an important Shinto air handed down from the dimmest ages. When Amaterasu Omikami, the great Imperial ancestress, concealed herself in a cave, being angry with the lawless conduct of her brother, Susanoo Mikoto, her subjects, to soothe her wrath, began to play music. A goddess attending the Sun Goddess, named Amano-Uzume, put on a wig made of the bark of the Judas tree and, girding up the sleeves of her dress with a cord made of vine, danced before the cave wherein the Sun Goddess was resting. There was an accompaniment of song and a half-bird with bells attached. The gods and goddesses made a huge bonfire, as it was pitch dark outside the cave, and made merry at the dance of the goddess Amano-Uzume.

Goddess' Curiosity Aroused.
The Sun Goddess, whose feminine curiosity was aroused by the swelling music and dancing, opened the door of the cave to look upon the scene. So pleased was she at the merry entertainment that her wrath was dispelled and she came out of her concealment. Her subjects, gods and goddesses, were overjoyed at her reappearance and sang a song of welcome. This was the origin of the kagura dance. In the reign of the first Emperor Jimmu the kagura dance was established as an important function at the court ceremonies.

In the reign of Emperor Seiwu, 8th A. D., the kagura dance was used for the first time in the celebration of the Daijosi or grand thanksgiving festival as a part of the accession ceremony. The present air used in the kagura music were selected from among the ancient songs by Emperor Ichijo, and number 33. The principal instruments used in the music are harps and flutes. In playing the kagura music the musicians take their seats in two groups, facing each other.

MIKADO HONORS JAPAN'S NAPOLEON

TOKIO, Nov. 11.—The Jiji Shimpō announces unofficially that the Mikado has created Count Okuma, the Premier, a Marquis, and Kokura, the millionaire merchant, a Baron.

Cordial messages of congratulation to Yoshihito have been received from King George of Great Britain, Czar Nicholas of Russia, President Poincaré of France, President Yuan Shi Kai of China, and others, while the felicitations sent by Japanese organizations fill a score of trunks. Gifts made to the Emperor are piled high in many buildings.
Coronation honors have been granted by the Emperor to Hideyoshi, sometimes called the Napoleon of Japan, who became virtually monarch of the country in 1592, although of low birth, and to Lord Hotta Shuri Iwase, who negotiated the treaty with Commodore Perry and Townsend Harris, the first United States Minister to Japan, under which Japan was opened to foreigners in 1853.

LIVESTOCK AND DRESSED MEAT RATES TO BE INVESTIGATED
Action by Interstate Commission, Which Denies Reopening of Western Traffic.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Interstate Commerce Commission will not reopen the case of the Western railroads which sought to increase their freight rates, but will investigate the rates, rules and practices of these roads in relation to the transportation of livestock, dressed meats and packing house products. These commodities were among those on which increases were sought. The roads originally sought increases of about $10,000,000 in their annual revenues, but the commission allowed increases of approximately $1,800,000. The proposed investigation, it is declared, may result in giving the roads a part of the $3,000,000 which it was estimated they would have received in added revenue through increases sought on fresh meats, packing house products and livestock.

JAPANESE RILED AT RESUSCITATION OF LATE GEN. NOGI

Imperial Edict Gives Right to Stranger to Take Name of Port Arthur Hero.

TOKIO, Nov. 11.—No subject has caused more of a clamor of public discussion in Japan in recent years than an imperial decree legally resuscitating the family of the late Gen. Nogi, the hero of Port Arthur and the idol of the Japanese nation. A storm of protest has risen from all parts of the empire because of the fact that Gen. Nogi, who committed harakiri with his wife on the night of the funeral of Emperor Meiji, left a will expressing his disapproval of the custom of adopting heirs in fulfillment of Japanese custom and thus to continue the succession of his house.

Gen. Nogi's later life was saddened by the loss of his two sons in the war with Russia. He was constantly requested by relatives and friends to adopt an heir in fulfillment of Japanese custom and thus to continue the succession of his house.

Nogi, however, refused, declaring that to his mind the practice of adoption had worked very badly and often had resulted in bringing discredit to the family. He preferred that his own house, which had been given the rank of nobility by the Emperor should become extinct after his death.

This desire was contained very explicitly in his last testament in which he declared "the tomb of the family ancestors should be cared for by blood relations so long as any of them survive, and not by others."

He gave directions that his body should be contributed to a medical school for dissection. Under the belief that his wife would survive him, Count Nogi concluded his will with the words: "The name of the House of Nogi will be retained during my wife's lifetime and after that it is my earnest hope that my family will be extinguished."

The successor to Count Nogi is not a blood relative. He is Motono Mori, younger brother of Viscount Motono. An imperial decree ordering Mr. Nogi to take over the house of the late Gen. Nogi as well as the title of Count was issued on the third anniversary of the suicide of the hero of Port Arthur. The fact that the new head of the house has already made application for the family relics and memorials has heightened public feeling on the matter.

NEW HAVEN FORMED BOAT LINE AND RAN IT TILL RIVAL RETIRED

C. S. Mellen Relates Circumstances of Enterprise Company Going Out of Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Attorneys for the Government in the trial of the 11 former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., under the Sherman anti-trust law, gained a statement from Charles S. Mellen, at the resumption of the trial today, that the United States Transportation Co. was organized by the New Haven with a view of meeting the competition of the Enterprise Steamboat Co. The Government for several days has been trying to prove that the Enterprise company was driven out of business by the New Haven.

Replying to further questions, Mellen said that after the Enterprise company retired from business the United States Transportation Co. was kept going until its affairs were wound up, which required about a year.

COFFEE ROASTERS' BANQUET $10 A PLATE—INCLUDING COFFEE

Association Winds Up Business in Preparation for Big Dinner Tonight.

The 250 members of the Coffee Roasters' Association today finished the business of the annual convention which has been in session at the Planters Hotel since Monday, and spent some time in speculating on what kind of coffee will be served at the $10 a plate banquet tonight. At an executive session yesterday the delegates authorized the executive board to enter into a national advertising campaign to set forth the virtues of coffee. No limit was placed upon the amount that might be expended and several officers of the association said that more than $50,000 probably would be spent.

PRESIDENT IS URGED TO STOP HYPHEN-CITIZEN LAWLESSNESS

American Society Asks Nonrecognition of "Un-American Influences" in Politics.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—"More effective action against the lawless and hostile acts committed in this country in the interests of foreign governments" is urged in messages sent to President Wilson and to members of Congress by the American Society.

The society, described as a federation for national unity, recently incorporated in New York State, announced that the sending of the messages to Washington was determined upon at the first meeting of the board of directors.

The directors also adopted a resolution deprecating hyphenated political organizations and urging the adoption by all political parties of a policy of nonrecognition in nominations or otherwise of such "un-American influences."

Objection to New Cabinet Causes Suspension of Sitting.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 11.—Riotous scenes marked the opening session of the Luxembourg Chamber of Deputies, when Radical members expressed dissatisfaction with the new Cabinet headed by Dr. Leutach, with the result that the sitting was suspended, says a telegram from Luxembourg received by way of Berlin.

ASQUITH PROPOSES COUNCIL OF ALLIES TO CONDUCT WAR

English Premier Promises Closer Co-Operation in Future Operations.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Premier Asquith is expected today to ask the House of Commons for a vote of credit of £400,000,000 ($2,800,000,000). This will bring the total amount appropriated for war purposes up to £1,662,000,000 ($11,634,000,000).

The Premier appeared in the House yesterday and it was anticipated he would make his appeal for funds at that time, but some unexpected developments prevented. However, he made the promised statement on the financial situation and urged great care in the disbursement of the national resources.

His resume was not sufficiently complete to satisfy some of the members, who had expected a comprehensive survey of the financial policy and details of the daily outlay for war purposes.

Premier Asquith presented figures showing that there remained for the last appropriation a sum sufficient to finance the war up to the third week in November. Approximately the war had cost £4,350,000 ($31,750,000) daily, he said, from Sept. 12 to Nov. 6, amounting to this figure from £2,700,000 ($19,500,000) which was the daily outlay in the earlier part of the financial year.

Great Britain, the Premier continued, had loaned to her allies and dominions £98,000,000 ($718,000,000) between April 1 and Nov. 6, and had spent an additional £12,000,000 ($88,000,000) for food supplies.

Regarding contracts, said the Premier, arrangements had been made between the allied Governments to avoid competing against one another either in the home market or in foreign markets, and thus keep down prices. Where there has been reasonable ground to suspect that extensive profits were being earned by a reasonable level.

The War Office, continued Premier Asquith, already had taken steps to secure a more effective and co-ordinated prosecution of the war on the part of the allied Powers by strengthening the British general staff and establishing more intimate intercommunication—not sporadic, but normal and habitual—between the military and naval advisers of all the allied Powers.

His own views had been much strengthened by what he had seen during his two visits to the front as to the importance of interchanging officers between the War Office and the army in the field, so that all might experience trench fighting and all the novel operations this war had introduced.

War Office Staff Praised.

Sir Archibald James Murray, head of the general staff, was about to appoint as his assistant Brigadier-General Laurence E. Kiggell, and Gen. F. Shaw would become director of home defense.

The Premier said he was satisfied that the staff now at the War Office, which was far more numerous than the public was aware, was composed of very able, distinguished officers, no less than 26 of whom had had actual experience in the present war.

With regard to the relations between the British staff and those of the allied Powers, it would be a great mistake, the Premier said, to suppose that they had been living in water-tight compartments, without communicating with one another. There was a British military attaché at French headquarters, and a distinguished French officer in attendance at the War Office in London, while arrangements now had been made for more intimate co-operation and for the interchange of views for common developments of plans for all the military operations in the different theaters of war.

A distinguished French staff officer, the Premier stated, will be in daily communication with the general staff at the British War Office, and Great Britain is sending to Franco officers entrusted with a like mission.

"It is more than possible," added the Premier, "that this organization may be still further developed."

"I am betraying no secret," continued the Premier, "when I say that the distinguished man who now holds the post of Prime Minister to France is anxious—and I am as anxious as he is—that we should develop the system of informal, occasional conferences which have taken place in the last few months with great advantage into something more definite and better organized. Neither he nor I is without hope that before long we shall have something in the nature of a war council, on which shall sit Ministers of the crown and Ministers of the republic, which will, with the expert advice of these united general staffs, control and direct our conjoint military and naval operations."

General War Council Urged.

"I do not place any limit on the extent to which this co-operation will be carried and we shall be only too delighted if Russia and Italy join us for the purpose I have indicated. With a broad-based, well-conceived and sympathetically worked system of that kind we have every confidence that the operation of the war will be still more efficiently conducted and co-ordinated in the future than in the past and that the fine spirit and resources of the allies will bring the war to a triumphant conclusion."

Laming W. Evans, Unionist Member for Colchester, suggested that the Government should mobilize the nation's assets and ascertain exactly what foreign securities were held in the country and, if necessary, submit to their being requisitioned by the Government for the purpose of supporting national credit.

Leifchild Jones, Liberal, was confident that great economy could be effected by the supervision of contracts. Henry E. Duke, Unionist, condemned the extravagance of the public departments.

A long discussion followed, covering the financial military and naval positions. The chief complaint of the members was that Premier Asquith had not given a general review of what Sir Joseph Walton described as "the severe financial situation" that no steps had been taken to enforce economy and that the supervision of expenditures had not been strict enough.

In the debate in the House of Lords

last evening on a motion of Viscount Peel declaring it to be the duty of the Government to exercise more effective

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—ADV.

supervision and control of naval and military expenditure, Baron Davenport said the country could not go on as it had been indefinitely and maintain financial solvency. He added that the situation was one of great gravity. The Marquis of Crewe, Lord President of the Council, who replied, said that the main bulk of the expenditure was on account of the importation of munitions and loans to the allies and the British dominions.

Lord Peel, in support of his motion, said that the figures which were given as to the expenditure on war and civil establishments for a full year approached very nearly to the aggregate amount of the income of the nation. The gigantic sums which were being spent were staggering the ablest financiers, and great caution was necessary in the control of national finances.

Lord Davenport thought it likely that the Government would have to resort to a forced loan.

"We cannot go on indefinitely and maintain our financial solvency," he said. "There is no doubt that the next war loan will be subscribed. But what of the loan after that and the loan after that again?"

TAKE SALTS IF YOUR BACK HURTS SAYS DRUGS ONLY EXCITE THE KIDNEYS

Salts is absolutely harmless to flush your Kidneys and neutralize uric acid, thus ending all Bladder trouble.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys. Keep your kidneys clean by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's waste and stimulates the body's normal activity. The action of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also, up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and your back pain.—ADV.

NEGROES TO RAISE
THIRD OF $150,000
FOR Y. M. C. A. HOME

Chicago Man Offers $25,000 to Start Fund; Whites to Raise $75,000.

CAMPAIGN IN DECEMBER

Effort Will Be Made to Obtain All of the Money in Ten Days.

The negro members of the Colored Branch, Young Men's Christian Association, have pledged themselves to raise $50,000 in 10 days as part of a fund of $150,000 for a building for the negro branch. Already nearly $2000 has been subscribed. The campaign will probably begin Dec. 6 and end Dec. 16.

Philemon Bevis, general secretary of the St. Louis Young Men's Christian Association, says that the short time allowed in due to the conditions of a donation of $25,000 which will start the $150,000 fund. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago has offered to give $25,000 for a building for the colored Y. M. C. A. in St. Louis, provided $125,000 is raised in this city.

When the offer was made to the members of the colored branch they agreed to obtain subscriptions for $50,000 from among their own people, provided $75,000 could be obtained from white residents.

Offer Was Accepted.
The board of directors of the St. Louis Y. M. C. A. accepted the offer, and at its meeting on Nov. 1 passed a resolution authorizing the campaign.

Rosenwald has made similar gifts to the colored Young Men's Christian Associations of other cities, notably Chicago, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Nashville, Atlanta, Brooklyn, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Kansas City and Washington. In all except Chicago the buildings have cost $100,000. The Chicago Colored Y. M. C. A. property cost $100,000. The negro population of Chicago is, according to the last census, approximately 46,000. That of St. Louis is approximately 44,000.

The negroes are organizing their forces for the campaign. F. L. Williams, principal of Sumner High School, is chairman of the board of managers of the Colored Branch, and he and the executive secretary of the branch, David D. Jones, have the work in charge. The other members of the Colored Branch board of managers are W. L. Perry, Milton Rowland, C. W. Brown, T. A. Curtis, J. E. Mitchell, C. H. Turner, S. B. Wallace, W. S. Brabham, Thomas A. Marshall, L. F. Ford, W. R. Curtis, W. C. Gordon, Edward D. Hamilton and W. R. Hill.

Organized 15 Years Ago.
The Colored Young Men's Christian Association in St. Louis was organized about 15 years ago, and became a part of the general association in St. Louis Jan. 1, 1915. It has a membership of 22. The branch occupies an old residence at 2702 Lawton avenue, quarters which are inadequate for the work in its present state.

"The proposed new building will have a complete and commodious equipment for both boys and men, with lobby, gymnasium, swimming pool, night school rooms, employment bureau, lunch room, Bible class and committee rooms, as well as baths and dormitories for colored young men away from home.

FOUR MEN, TWO WOMEN ROBBED
IN SIX HOLDUPS LAST NIGHT

One Woman Fights Assailant; Watch Thrown Back to Man Who Chases Robbers.

A number of highway robberies last night were reported to the police.

Mrs. Nora Cleary, 2807 Cass avenue, when returning from an entertainment shortly after midnight, was stopped by a man in a hallway adjoining her home. She refused to give up her purse, and was choked and struck in the face.

Mrs. Cleary, in fighting with her assailant, dropped her purse containing 35 cents. The robber picked it up and fled.

Miss Isabelle Simpson, 2775 Kingsbury place, was stopped by a negro in front of 11 Washington terrace at 7 p. m. He snatched her hand bag containing 11 cents and a bundle containing a nurse's dress.

Charles Vicheller, shoemaker, 3310 Magnolia avenue, was hit on the head with a revolver by one of two robbers near his home. He called for help and the men fled.

Two men took a watch and $15 from Don W. Lips of East St. Louis, at Third and Olive streets. He pursued them and one of them threw his watch to him.

George Bard, 3304 Vista avenue, was beaten by three robbers in front of his home. He had several scalp wounds, which were dressed at the city hospital.

Thomas Feeney, 1921 California avenue, reported that he had been robbed of $45 by three men, at Twelfth and Pine streets, about 2:30 a. m. He was held pending investigation of his story.

Zurich Paper Says Confiscation of Registered Letters in Embargo on Trade.

ZURICH, Switzerland, Nov. 11.—According to the Neue Zurichische Zeitung, the French postoffice has been for some weeks confiscating registered letters containing checks and coupons sent from New York for collection, especially in cases where the banks to which they were addressed were opposed to the Anglo-French loan. The seizures are declared to indicate American bank notes. "Great indignation prevails in Swiss financial circles," the Neue Zurichische Zeitung continues, "because the action means an embargo on Swiss trade and banking operations with America."

SHOE MACHINE INJUNCTION WILL CUT PRICES, W. F. McLEROY SAYS

W. F. McLeRoy, vice president of the McElroy-Sloan Shoe Co., said today that he believed the injunction granted by the Federal Court against the "tying" clause in the contracts of the United Shoe Machinery Co. with manufacturers would result in lower prices. Under the present system of leases the shoe manufacturer was under conditions that a man would be under who, in buying a bed, cook stove and table, was compelled to buy a piano, rugs and silverware at the same time from the same firm. If the injunction were made permanent, said McLeRoy, it would result in an open shop and would stimulate invention. Manufacturers would be free to try new machines. There would be no immediate decrease in the cost of production as prices of leather were constantly advancing, but in the end competition would lower prices to the consumer.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Train Discharged Soldiers for Officers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A great deal has been said about military preparedness, increase in the army and navy, citizen soldier camps, etc., but there is one class of citizens apparently being overlooked.

The training camps at Plattsburg and Fort Sheridan were open to college graduates or students only, and they were expected to be capable of commanding volunteer troops in case of war.

There are thousands of discharged soldiers now holding responsible positions throughout the country who have not the advantage of a college education, but have had three, six or maybe nine years' military training as private or noncommissioned officers in the regular army. In my opinion, these men, if given a few weeks' technical training, would make more efficient volunteer officers than college graduates with four weeks' military training.

I do not mean to say that our officers are over-educated; there is no doubt but that they should be highly and specially educated, if possible. But I do contend that there is some valuable material in our discharged soldiers that could be used to a great advantage in an emergency, and I think the War Department should furnish the necessary literature so that they could use some of their spare time for the study and arrangements should be made for a training camp, so as to give them every opportunity to educate themselves to be volunteer officers in case of war.

If we are ever involved in another war we will not lack soldiers, but we will lack officers unless immediate steps are taken to supply them.

The New Religion.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The great question in religion today is not so much what creed must we follow; not how long or what shall we read; not whether we are Scientists or followers of this man or that; not whether our pastor or mine is the only right one; not whether we are or how we are misled.

The vital question in our life is, what have we individually in our hearts, what is our real life purpose? How much of the mind of Christ have we made our own? "Not failure, but low aim is crime." Life failures befall man because he lives from habits, impulse and sensation, rather than from a life-long steady purpose.

When we put into our weekly church going love for it, a great passionate purpose behind it, rather than a mere habitual Sunday attendance, then only can our church world become one of regenerating influence, then only can it give new life to the worn and weary; high purposes and great devotion carry life with them.

We have no need of new creeds, doctrines and healing. We need new men, men filled with the spirit of self-sacrifice, men with wills and purposes so great as to fill the atmosphere with their power, based on an enduring faith with God all things are possible.

Our Rights on the Sea.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Our Government has at last sent that long-delayed note to England, and the English press has reached its destination, when the English press comes out with a protest, that it is impossible for England to comply with its contents, as it interferes with her method of crushing the enemy, regardless of consequences to neutral nations. This Government sets forth the rules of modern warfare in its note in very plain words, with hardly any excuse for doubt in regard to international law, but it does not seem to coincide with the English interpretation (the English press) of the law. The English press contends that England will use any means in her power to beat the central Powers, regardless of international law, or consequences to neutral nations.

If such is the case and this nation is unable to make England respect neutral rights, the same as we have done to the central Powers, it is about time for us to let England assume all responsibility of the sea, caution our citizens not to sail on belligerent ships and let England study the words, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

The Sunflower Crop.

From the Hickman Courier.

The harvest is now well under way and the yield fine. From five to twenty wagon loads of seed are gathered in each field, fanning machines are at work and the sunflower field is rapidly losing its rich seed, which is being marketed at from 2 1/2 to 4 cents per pound, yielding from 1000 to 1800 pounds to the acre. The 3 1/2-cent seed was sold last year under contract to be delivered in October. The market price this fall, we are told by good authority, is going to be from 5 to 6 cents per pound.

MORE SCHOOL FUNDS.

If School Director Mauch can show that the bond issue or tax increase, which Supt. Blewett recommends, is not necessary to supply school room and maintain the standard of the schools, we shall be glad.

Mr. Mauch must show, however, that the estimated income of the board is sufficient to supply the buildings needed now and for the immediate future and that there will be no reduction of standard nor curtailment of the work of the schools. The school system ought not to retrogress at any point, but should progress at every point. We must have enough buildings to supply the constantly increasing demand, enough competent, well-paid teachers for the pupils and all the opportunities offered by the best public school system to those seeking education; we must have an ample supply of night schools and summer schools.

The people of St. Louis want the best possible school system. They do not want to curtail its usefulness. They do not want economies which tend to reduce its standard and the scope of its service; which will deprive any youth of excellent educational opportunities. They have proved this by liberally responding to every call for needed revenue. They have voted special taxes to supply needed public revenues. They are ready to supply more revenues whenever the need for it is demonstrated.

Mr. Blewett estimates that in round numbers $2,000,000 is required to supply adequate school room and funds for school maintenance for the next five years. Of this amount, he says that nearly one-half is needed to supply the buildings actually needed now. The increase of maintenance cost is estimated at $170,000 a year. On the other hand, the increase in revenues at the present tax rate is estimated at $100,000 a year, based upon the average increase for the past five years.

The alternatives Mr. Blewett offers for a building fund raised by a bond issue, which is good business when actually needed, or an increase in the tax rate, are these:

1. The expenditures may be kept within the income by curtailing present activities to the serious injury of the schools.

2. The expenditures may be kept within the income by stopping all further building, and by the accommodation of increased enrollment in the present buildings in the consequent half-time sessions offered to thousands of pupils.

We do not want the alternatives. If it can be shown that there are extravaganzas that can be lopped off, or economies not hurtful to the schools, that can be adopted, good; let us have them. But if not, then the money must be raised.

To the auto: Don't try to keep up with the big war.

SAFETY FIRST AND FENDERS.

Elba and Lydia Woerther, one 4 and the other 2, ran directly in front of a Broadway car at Baden street. With safety-first quickness, the motorman lowered the emergency mechanism of the fender. Elba was swept from the car track and Lydia caught up in the fender basket. Both were entirely unharmed. To be scooped up in a street car fender was, in fact, believed by Lydia to be some new and highly enjoyable form of play designed for the entertainment of innocents of her age.

The saving of these two little ones from death or injury is worth all the time and effort devoted to instruction in safety-first principles. Indeed, it is worth all that time and effort plus all the time and money expended by the United Railways in equipping its cars with fenders plus the time and energy in almost unlimited quantities it took to compel the United Railways to put the fenders on its rolling stock.

THE SHOE MACHINERY DECISION.

"It is hard to see how the ingenuity of man could devise a scheme that would more effectually create a monopoly," is the judicial verdict on the methods of the Shoe Machinery Trust, as expressed in Judge Dyer's decision.

One of the most odious forms of industrial tyranny is outlawed by the opinion. Contracts under which, in consideration of permission to use the trust's more valuable devices, its less valuable devices must also be used and the devices of other interests, no matter how valuable, excluded from factories, are declared to be of no effect.

The discovery that the long-defiant Shoe Machinery Trust is not stronger than Federal sovereignty is entitled to an important place in the history of trust-busting effort. Opportunities for industrial pillage by this or other combines through the privileges granted by patent laws designed to serve beneficent, not malevolent, ends are confined within narrower limits. The tax every American old enough to require footgear has to pay to this $75,000,000 trust is lessened.

It is important to us to know that the Clayton act has teeth. To the consumer the attractions of the new freedom are visualized in striking form by this helpful court decision.

PACIFYING A PAUPER PANIC.

The war is not over yet, but what the pauperized surviving remnant of European labor is going to do after the war for the ruin of American industry under a low tariff is already in substantial evidence.

A French commercial commission has landed on our shores in the avowed purpose of placing business orders to be executed after the war. But instead of contracting for the sale here of a destructive avalanche of pauper-labor goods, this commission will contract for the purchase of machinery and material to rebuild the destroyed factories of Northern France and re-equip the factories of those sections of France unravaged by the war. These purchases, it is said, will run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

We may, therefore, advise our stand-pat friends to calm their fears. France may be presumed to know almost as well as they how the war will affect European labor and industry. France, at least, is not calculating that a war which kills off and disables labor on a scale never before known is going to make labor superabundant; or that a war which leaves any body alive is going to relieve the living of the necessity of building themselves up from the ruins. France will need new and better machinery, not, gentlemen stand-patters, because labor will be of a pauper plenty, but because it will be scarce and costly and to be saved as far as labor-saving machinery can possibly save it.

France will expect to pay for this machinery with her own productions. She cannot pay otherwise, and we cannot sell otherwise. It is as a buyer in the American market and not as a pauper seller that France will stand out after the war, and so of the rest of Europe.

IMPROVING ON NATURE.

The Academy of Medicine and New York Neurological Society report new triumphs in brain surgery. Some of the results of operations for spasmodic paralysis and arrested development are reported thus:

Children who, before the knife was used on their heads, were incapable of speaking, or of locomotion, or movements of the arms, were able, last night, to talk, and laugh, and run backwards and forwards, and hold their arms above their heads like normal children. A boy who, before the operation, couldn't walk or talk intelligibly, now goes seven blocks to school twice a day. One child that formerly was huddled, with head bent almost to knees, walked proudly last night before the surgeons.

Coincidental with these triumphant demonstrations comes an interesting announcement from a profound mental researcher, Dr. Fernald, head of the McLean Institute. Speaking to a class of Radcliffe girls, Dr. Fernald says that the brains of a pretty girl often, if not usually, compare unfavorably with those of her less attractive sisters. As a rule, the homely girls have more "common sense," while the beauties are hopelessly deficient. From the report of the lecture, we have it: Dr. Fernald showed the pictures of several beautiful young women and said that, while all of them were over 25 years of age, none of them had more mental power than a child of nine. To all appearances they were normal, he said, yet they lacked reasoning power and were guided by impulse and instinct rather than by common sense.

Surgical wizardry offers tempting possibilities to enhance the merely ornamental beauty, while it tends to multiply the snares and dangers which already beset susceptible mankind. However, there appears no reason why the operation should be confined to one sex. Recalling the vain contents of a beau's head as detailed by Addison, why not eliminate them likewise? If brains are to be added to beauty, the chappy will either have to be supplied with a new stock-in-trade or go out of business.

The proposed removal of the Irish-American hyphen is well-approved punctuation.

MOTORS IN THE PARK.

There is no reason why taxis should not run into Forest Park, nor why sight-seeing busses should not make the park a part of their routes. There is every reason why they should in order to accommodate all those visitors or home people, who want to visit the park.

There is every reason why municipal busses should be run to the Art Museum. The park should be made as accessible as possible for the public without gridironing it with railroads.

All of these reasons combine in an irrepressible reason for the repeal of the ordinance forbidding all pay vehicles to enter the park. The ordinance practically prohibits all, except favored auto and vehicle owners, from riding in the park. It is ridiculous at this time.

The one thing to be guarded against is the street railroad gridiron in the park. A concession of a depressed line to carry the public to the Art Museum should not be made a plea for lines crossing and recrossing the park and destroying its character and attraction. It is, however, a sound plea for reasonable motor transportation, which, in view of the great progress made in motor construction and operation, may solve all park transportation problems.

MARYLAND'S PROGRESSIVE SENTIMENT.

Of four constitutional amendments submitted and reported adopted in Maryland, one authorized indeterminate sentences and a parole system. A second superseded a rigid rule of uniformity in taxation with a rule permitting the classification of property and requiring uniformity only in each classification.

The two other amendments are of a still more progressive nature. One establishes the referendum in state affairs. The second grants counties home rule, permits them to prescribe their own form of government, and authorizes the use of the initiative in county legislation.

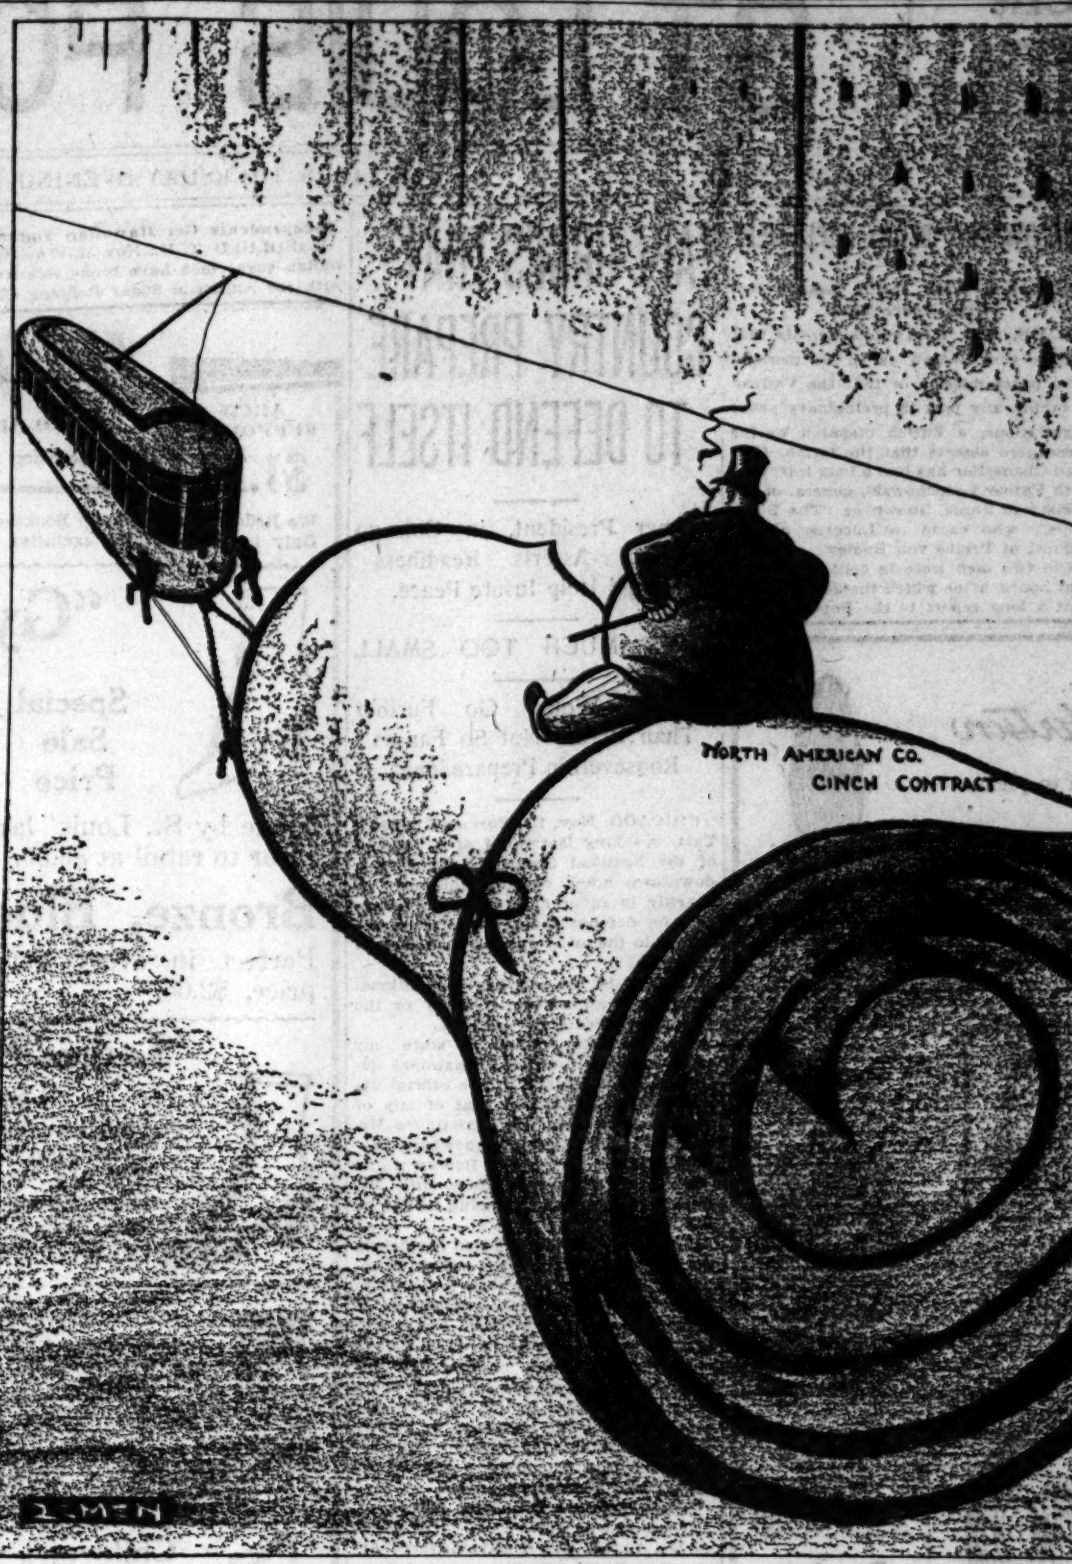

States of the Middle West and Far West, where recent constitutional changes have invariably included the initiative and referendum, and often the recall, may not appreciate how much these changes in Maryland evidence advance in the East. Maryland is the first of the Eastern states to adopt direct legislation devices even to this extent. The most limited and restricted use of referendum, initiative or recall was unauthorized in the proposed new Constitution rejected in New York state last week.

WATCH THE OUTJA BOARD SMOKE.

Arthur Delroy, an authority on psycho data, thinks it strange that our Patience Worth uses the distinctive words and idioms of not merely one, but several different periods in the development of the English language.

But she mixes up the vocabulary of these several different periods simply because she was busy operating the outja board during all these periods. Nobody who knows of her present astonishing activity would be surprised to find, 50 years from now, that she had added the new words and slang phrases of this present time to those that she had acquired before.

More serious is Mr. Delroy's disparagement of the literary quality of old Patience's revealed her. They say that with the quaintness lent by her obsolete diction eliminated, her stuff would be punk. But what is there that gives distinction except style? What article could do as well if restricted to a clumsy form of expression that added the irritating limitations of an outja board to those of typewriters, printers and proofreaders? A reply so hot it will make the outja board smoke may be expected when Patience hears what Mr. Delroy said about her.

THE HOMERIC SERIES.

WHEN Homer smote his blooming lyre,
There were no diplomatic notes;
The ancients always opened fire
When someone calmly sank their boats.
The late resort to pen and ink
Was never dreamed of very much,
Nor were the Greeks disposed to wink
Through their stenographers and such.

Their swords and shields
Began to clink,
And straightaway war
Threw in the clunk.

Those rare refinements
Which prevail
Were nothing else
Could ever feel.

III.

OR whether this was right or wrong
Is not, of course, for us to say;
The ancients somehow got along,
And lived quite fully in their day.
The only note they knew about
Was that which came from War's own throat,
Nor did their enemies much doubt
The meaning of that ringing note.

They did not have
What we would call Diplomacy
In time remote.

TELLING IT TO THE MARINES.

If you "tell it to the Marines," be quite sure you have it right; for this warring amphibian is not the credulous personage you have always supposed him to be. United States Marine Corps officers have traced the famous saying, "Tell it to the Marines," to none other than our old friend Samuel Pepys, of the Diary renown, the original "first nighter," who tells us that the saying had origin with Charles II, the merry monarch of England.

"To so befall," the story goes, "that his light-hearted Majesty, with an exceedingly bored expression on his swarthy face, was walking in the shade with the ingenious Mr. Pepys, Secretary to the Admiralty."

"I had a speech yesterday at Deptford," said Mr. Pepys, "with the captain of the 'Defiance,' who hath but lately returned from the Indies, and who told me the two most wonderful things that ever I think I did hear in my life." Among the stories told were of fish flying in the air.

"Fish flying in the air!" exclaimed his Majesty. "Ha, ha, a quaint conceit, which 'twere too good to spoil by keeping. What, sir?" (he turned and beckoned to the Colonel, Sir William Killigrew, of the newly raised maritime regiment on foot, who was following in close conversation with the Duke of York) "we would discourse with you on a matter touching your element. What say you, Colonel, to a man who swears he hath seen fishes fly in the air?"

"I should say, sir," returned the sea soldier, simply, "that the man hath sailed in southern seas. For when your Majesty's business carried me hither of late I did frequently observe more flying fish in one hour than the hairs of my head in number."

Old Rowley glanced narrowly at the Colonel's frank, weather-beaten face. Then, with a laugh, he turned to the secretary and said: "Mr. Pepys, from the very nature of their calling no class of our subject can have so wide a knowledge of seas and lands as the officers and men of our royal maritime regiment. Henceforth, whenever we cast doubt upon a tale that lacketh likelihood, we will tell it to the Marines—if they believe it, it is safe to say it is true."

A man met another and, while not remembering who he was but feeling certain that he was acquainted with him, held out his hand and said: "I am sure I have met you somewhere." "No doubt," was the reply. "I have been there often."

Some of the reports of battles are quite on a par with the following, which was published as a sailor's account of the sinking of the German cruiser Blucher: "When the ship was sinking I jumped clear of her into the terribly cold water, which was full of dead men with shattered limbs who were crying for assistance."

"When do you think we are going to do something about Americans being blown up by submarines?" "When we get out of note paper, I reckon."

Mr. Taft wants Mr. Root to be President, but except to thank him for the compliment we don't know what Mr. Root could do about it.

A delayed cyclone struck Kansas last night. There is only one cloud on the horizon of Kansas, but the shape of it is disquieting.

New York also seems hopelessly behind St. Louis in psychic phenomena.

There have been numerous stories of unusual signs in American saloons and restaurants, but here is one on a cardboard sign in a German saloon in Chicago: "Don't talk war here. This place is neutral. If you can't say something good for the Germans keep still."

H. A. S.—Treatment will vary according to the nature and stage of the skin disease. When the disease is not widespread, but isolated cases only occur, it may be treated with salicylic acid, which is easily dealt with. The first object is to remove the irritant matter from the skin. For this purpose, use a 1 or 2 ounces of castor oil may be given, according to the size of the child. For the skin, use a 1 or 2 ounces of castor oil. If the stools are small, particularly sour, it may be replaced by 1 ounce of castor oil. A small amount of castor oil may be given with each meal. Great harm can be done by giving castor oil and salicylic acid at the outset. These merely serve to bind up the bowels and retain the irritant source of trouble. Literally, "to shut up the wolf in the sheepfold." When the offending agents have been expelled in this way, castor oil and salicylic acid may be given. Give 1 dram olive oil, 1 dram castor oil, 1 dram salicylic acid, 3 times a day. Under course the consistency of the stools should increase. Use 1 or 2 drams of castor oil, 3 times a day.

Old Hopeful

When her foster father's schemes, one by one, fail to work out, Nellie puts hers into play with best of results.

By Agnes Lee Meservey.

"READ it again, child."

"And thus the princely

Scottish refugee watched the diligent spider ascend its frail self-formed cable, only to fall back unsuccessful, but undaunted. Finally, after many efforts, the persevering toiler reached its goal and strengthened its web staunchly, and the lesson of paience and victory caused Robert Bruce

to take new heart of hope."

"Beautiful—grand!" enthused old Abner Post. "My dear, what a lesson for poor impatient humanity! What a model in hope and perseverance. I declare! I feel quite encouraged."

Humble, simple-hearted Abner beamed

on the young girl who was his adopted daughter, the sole companion of his old age. Then with a brisk step and head erect he left the house, whistling cheerily. There had been a storm and the broken clouds were still scudding across the sky. Way over in the east was the fading outline of a rainbow.

"And Robert Bruce took heart of hope," misquoted the old man. "Try, try again." Hope and faith—I've got them stronger than ever! They change gloom into sunlight, bring health out of sickness, success out of failure and youth out of age. Well, let's see what I can bring out of that pile of truck

over yonder."

Abner walked over to the edge of the garden, capacious but strangely, to where a heap of queer objects lay piled in a heap. They were formed of glass and a stranger looking them over would have wondered what they were made for. Two miles down the river was a glass works. Abner had got an idea.

It was to create unique molds from which he could have Chinese gods, Hindu divinities, distorted dwarfs, grotesque harlequins—in fact a wide range of odd objects made. It had occurred to him that these curiosities, sold cheap

and to be filled with spices, sugar, vinegar and other products, would quickly sell for ornamentation and display in grocery store windows. It was one of his "schemes" that had marked his inventive experience.

So he had used up his last dollar

having the objects made, only to find out that they were too

slummy, bulky and inartistic to suit his prospective clients. The scheme fell flat.

His entire stock lay heaped up on the refuse heap in the corner of the garden.

"They represent capital investment,"

soliloquized Abner, rubbing his chin reflexively. "Something ought to come

of them."

"What are you thinking about, dear?"

chirped the gentle voice of Nellie, who had stolen out after him, and, caressing

one arm, stood looking longingly up into his face.

"Why, of you, of course!" cried the old man cheerily. "Who else? I've been figuring what to do next to get into some position of comfort out of the great dark swamp of misery I've pulled you into, along with myself."

Nellie kissed his quivering lips in silence.

"Why?" she cried, "where's the misery? Because we have to cut and trim pretty closely, is the air any heavier or the golden sunlight less bright? Does not the sweet, fresh cornmeal taste better than ever because there isn't so much of it, and the dear old house—its own palace, we love it!"

"Say!" exclaimed old Abner, perk-

ing up magically, "you're a household angel, you are! How you stand all my foolish speculations and the hard life

here I can't understand."

"You naughty fibber!" chided Nellie fondly. "Once there was a poor little orphan girl. The village had no use for her. A dear old man named Abner

Post saved her from the poorhouse by adopting her. He taught her to read and write, he gave her a happy, happy life. And as she stands here today, she blames him because he has given her love! Love! Love! Oh, never care for the dark days, dear—so many are bright.

And besides—besides," she flushed and was embarrassed, "I think—I am sure things are going to mend."

The artless old man did not notice

her confusion. Her cheering words alone impressed him and his soul was comforted.

Nellie had a fond cherished secret,

but she did not reveal it to her adopted father. Had he been less self-centered he might have tried to find a cause for her more than happy face, her frequent lonely walks away from the old homestead evenings.

It was about two weeks later that

Abner came into the house in a great state of excitement.

"Nellie, child, look there!" he exclaimed, and held up so queer an object

that she was quite startled and puzzled.

It was a squash, but such a squash!

It was a perfect presentment, only in vegetable form, of one of the glass forms

that had cost the old man his spare capital.

"Just happened to notice that one of those thousand-and-one squash vines

had run an end into one of those glass images, sprouting and filled it up. I broke the glass and there you are. I reckon never before has the world produced a genuine vegetable Chinese mandarin."

"But—but—" began Nellie.

"What of it?" jubilated the old man.

"Why, I'm going to run a vine into every one of the old molds. Don't you see Chinese gods, Hindu divinities, distorted dwarfs, grotesque harlequins—

why, Nellie, before fair time I'll have such a collection as will be the drawing card of the whole show! There are frank gamblers who will pay me a fortune for the display. See if I ain't right!"

Alas! for two months old Abner

thought only of the culture of his old squashes. He shipped them to the State fair and followed them in person.

Nellie's Plan Works Out

Nellie met him at the train when he returned, a week later. Abner was slightly glum, for his freaks had excited only a passing notice

and then were forgotten.

"Reckon I'm an unlucky speculator!"

he laughed, Nellie's cheery smiles acting like a tonic on him. "All right, but try, try again! I'm going to pitch in to honest, humdrum, practical farming and give up my wild-goose schemes."

"Home, father!" cried Nellie, as they reached the old homestead. "Jump

down, dear!"

But Abner only stared. The old place had a new look. The house had been repainted, the fence mended, a new wing

had been built onto the house.

"Why, Nellie!" gasped the old man in dubious stupefied kind of a way.

"And who's that—why, Paul Worthington!"

"Father," whispered Nellie in his ear,

and all athrill with love, "he is my husband!"

How much that meant of an assurance of a safe comfortable home for all his life, Abner Post realized after Nellie had told the story of her engagement.

"I didn't want to worry you, dear,"

she said lovingly. "I was afraid you would think I was getting tired of you and going away, and all that!"

"Whereas," pronounced big-hearted

Paul Worthington, "first we bargained that you should be with us with the casting vote, a permanent fixture, then we got married!"

Mrs. Tabbie and Her Kits

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Sandman story of the old Squash Cat who teaches her children the right way to catch mice.

MRS. TABBIE awoke one morning and found beside her four tiny kittens. At least she thought there were four, but when she came back from her breakfast in the kitchen
she found only two kittens.

"I must have been mistaken," she said, "there are only two here."
When the kittens were large enough to run about and the weather was growing cold, Mrs. Tabbie took the kittens into the house for the mistress to see.

Epe took them into the room where her mistress sat sewing and walked up to her. "Me-ow," she said.
"Yes," said her mistress, "they are very cunning. Tabbie, and I hope you will teach them to be as well-behaved
as you are."

"I will," me-ow-ed Tabbie.

ONE day, after the kittens were large enough to catch mice, Tabbie was in the pantry and she saw a mouse.

She did not try to catch it, but let it go into its hole, then she called her kittens and made them sit in a corner of the pantry, and she sat back of them.
"Now, watch that hole," she said; "a mouse will run out soon, and if you let it get away I shall punish you severely."

The kittens knew she would keep her word, and they sat down, determined to get the mouse at any cost.

Presently the mouse put his nose out of the hole, but as Tabbie and the kittens were behind a basket, he did not see them, and he ran out.

Quick as a flash the kittens were after him, and the mouse ran up the side of the flour barrel. "Get him," urged Tabbie from her corner.

The cover was off the barrel and in went the mouse, but the kittens were after him, and for a few seconds the flour rose from the barrel like smoke, then one of the kittens appeared at the top with the mouse.

TABBIE and the kittens ran into the kitchen. "The saints preserve us," cried the cook, for both kittens were white with the flour and left a white path behind them.

Mrs. Tabbie did not notice this, but she took her children and the mouse in the room where her mistress was sitting.

Some New Recipes

Creamed Celery—Cut four stalks of celery into small dice, cover with water and let it slowly simmer until very tender and perfectly clear. Then drain off the water (which has been slightly salted), put 1 cup of cream or rich milk into saucepan with 1 tablespoon of butter, and when hot add the celery. Season delicately with salt and pepper and simmer 5 minutes, then add 1 small teaspoon (I think 1/4 is enough) of cornstarch mixed smooth with a little cold milk. Stir in thoroughly and serve very hot.

Best Roll—Chop fine 1 1/2 pounds of bottom of round steak. Mix well with one-half cup bread crumbs, 1 well-beaten egg, a few drops of onion juice and salt and pepper to season. Add milk to moisten, if necessary. Shape into loaf or roll and bake 30 minutes, basting frequently with a little melted butter in hot water. Remove from the pan and make a brown gravy to pour over it.
Serve with a border of well-cooked macaroni.

Lemon Pie—One cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour mixed with sugar, 1 lemon (juice) and grate about 1-3 rind of lemon, 4 eggs (yolks). Mix well together and when ready for oven add 1 cup hot milk.

Frosting—Four eggs (whites) beaten to a stiff froth; add 6 even tablespoons sugar. When pie is nearly cold put on frosting.

Reading in the Trenches.

BOOKSHEETS, or in other words,
pamphlet editions of standard literary works, are being prepared and sent to British soldiers in the trenches.
They take up little space and are so cheap and plentiful they can be thrown away or passed along without loss. The list of subjects includes the two Testaments, Shakespeares, Milton and Wordsworth, selections from "The Complete Angler," Macaulay's "Armada," "A Game of Craybill," by Dickens, and "Pericles to the Athenians," with selections from Froissart on the back.

ENGLISH MASSES RIDE ON CREST OF PROSPERITY WAVE

Workers' Wages Soar to Many Times What They Were Before the War.

Correspondence of the Associated Press. LONDON, Oct. 23.—How completely the war has baffled the foresight of economic experts is shown by the remarkable wave of surface prosperity which the masses of Great Britain are experiencing. Only a little more than a year ago political economists were discussing seriously the need for organizing public works on a great scale for the tens of thousands who would be thrown out of employment. Now financiers like Sir George Paish, editor of the Economist, and Edwin Montagu, the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, are sounding strong warnings against the extravagant living of the nation as a whole.

"Money is being squandered on all sides," declared Sir George Paish in a recent speech, and the newspapers are taking up the same cry.

The conditions which the war has developed have settled the problem of public works on lines which apparently were not foreseen. The enormous increase of the British army to 3,000,000 men, and the demand for workers in the public and private munitions works, has absorbed all the available manhood of the country procurable on a basis of voluntary service, and given a great surplus of employment to the United States.

Money is being discharged freely and even lavishly and extravagantly to contractors and to workmen, and for the support of the families of soldiers, according to the economists, and it is being spent by the people at large with equal lavishness and extravagance. These conditions cause excited debate by all classes. In the enormous redistribution of wealth the general drift would appear to be from the hands of the rich and the middle classes into the pockets of the workmen and the families of soldiers.

While the workers furnish a majority of the men under arms, the people with large estates and those with savings and middle class incomes believe that they furnish, through taxation and war loans, the bulk of the money which is carrying on the war, and which finds its way down through the Government and contractors to the small merchants and workmen.

Rich Study Economy.
This results in the enforcement of unusual economy upon the wealthy and the middle classes (except those concerned in war work, who are many), and encourages unusually free spending in the stratum usually most economical. While the Grand Opera has been suspended during the war time the theaters of the masses, and the picture shows are prospering. The hotels and restaurants supported by the wealthy pass their dividends; the popular resorts are doing good business.

Tailors and fashionable dressmakers say they are suffering great depression but the wives and daughters of workmen are dressed better than ever before in their lives. Wine merchants are putting up their shutters, but the public houses where beer and gin are consumed are crowded.

Mr. Montagu complained of great spending on luxuries, and cited the fact that the sale of pianos has increased. He called upon every citizen to be prepared to put at least one-half his current income at the disposal of the state. The wealthy classes of England would not agree that the luxury and extravagance charge is practiced by them. No observer could fail to credit them with accepting the enormous war taxes imposed upon incomes with a remarkable patriotism and resignation.

Getting More Pay.
Speaking for the other side of the case, Sir Alfred Mond, a wealthy manufacturer, told the House of Commons that men from the agricultural districts who formerly earned $4 a week are getting $15 and $20 from the Government, and men are being paid $5 a day for putting up huts for the soldiers.

Annan Bryce, brother of the former Ambassador to America, testified that boys who formerly worked for $2 a week are being paid by the Government more than $10 for carrying the bags of Government carpenters.

A writer in the Daily Mail says: "I met a man who, without any previous experience as a craftsman, was earning from $8 to $28 a week ($30 to $40), making shell cases in a certain Government munitions plant. I am told that workmen in Birmingham now drive up to their daily task in taxicabs, and that in that fortunate city the shops are doing a trade in expensive luxuries such as has never been known before."

Extravagant payments to contractors,

MEN FIND BENEFIT IN THIS LETTER

A Chicago Druggist writes: "Cadomene Tablets (3 grain) are surely a wonderful scientific combination of harmless, effective and powerful health and vitality building properties for men in all walks of life."

"Every day my sales increase on these tablets and every day I hear words of praise by customers who have, through their use, been restored to new strength and health and who were once the tottering enfeebled victims of nervousness and failing strength due to worry, overwork and late hours."

"I am always glad to recommend Cadomene Tablets (3 grain) to those who require a good bracing tonic of this nature. I have used them myself and know from personal experience their true worth. They are just the thing to revitalize the whole nervous system, the brain and every bodily structure. The benefit from Cadomene Tablets is sure, prompt and lasting.—ADVERTISEMENT."

and to buyers and experts who have been taken into Government employ, is a complaint against the Government levied by many business men. Corruption is not charged, but high and wasteful disbursements due to ignorance of business affairs on the part of officials and the necessity for making hurried contracts.

The country would not suffer so much from these conditions if it was self-contained like Germany and money merely flowed in a circle from the Government into the hands of the people back to the Government in taxes and loans. But Britain is importing enormous quantities of goods for the use of the people, beside war supplies, and the exports do not balance the imports by many millions.

Advocates of economy in the popular press take advantage of the opportunity to call upon the Government for retrenchment. The office of Lord Chancellor alone, with almost nominal duties, is costing $125,000 a year. Lord

Buckmaster, recently the head of the Press Bureau, is drawing the salary of $50,000, while his predecessor, Lord Haldane, and two other former incumbents of the office, are receiving pensions of $25,000 each.

The two law officers of the Crown, the Attorney-General and the Solicitor General, are compensated chiefly by fees which amount to about $100,000 for each official.

Several Cabinet Ministers draw salaries of $25,000. The payment of $250 salaries to members of the House of Commons is a comparatively new law. The writers for newspapers which circulate among the working classes call upon Government officials to set the example in responding to Mr. Montagu's appeal to citizens to place half their incomes at the disposal of the Government.

FIERCE FIGHTING WHEN FRENCH WON GERMAN TRENCHES

Associated Press Correspondent Visits Captured Battlefield
After Hot Battle.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
CHALONS, France, Oct. 30.—"When we have taken you out before, we have shown you trenches," said a French officer. "This time we are going to show you a field of victory—lines of trenches which we took from the Germans."

Not all the spoil had yet been removed from that section 15 miles long and from one to five in breadth where, on Sept.
25 and 26, the French had broken back the siege line of the Germans with the concentration of infantry and the expenditure of millions of shells.

What looked like a man of war turret on wheels was being drawn along the road. This cupola of riveted armor was denied by shell fragments. It had an opening for the swing of a small gun and a door for the exit and entrance of the crew, which could be fastened by a bolt and a heavy chain.

"Three men were found inside—locked in," said an officer. "The turret was set in the parapet of a trench at an important point of the line. All the German soldiers in the neighborhood had either been killed or buried alive. We had to break the lock to take the crew
out. All three were alive but stunned.
They had gone on firing their gun as long as they could."

Freely the correspondent moved between the old first line French and German trenches, which, for many months, had been a zone of death for whoever showed himself.

In front of the first line trench the Germans had barbed-wire entanglements five or six feet broad. A rabbit could not have gone through without being caught. In places now one had to search to find any wire. It had been chopped into bits by the burst of shrapnel bullets from the "soixante quinze" guns and then kneaded into the earth by high explosive shells.

Those guns and been firing from a range of anywhere from 2000 to 5000 yards, yet with such accuracy that they could hit this ribbon of wire six feet broad. On such accuracy depended the success of the infantry in reaching the German trenches. There must be guns and shells enough to destroy wire over a front of 15 miles. If the Germans in the trench with their rifles and machine guns and hand grenades could go on firing it meant murder for the Frenchmen exposed in the open as they charged.

So 15 or 20 yards beyond where the wire was being cut more shell fire had to kill the fire from the German trenches. Some blasts of shrapnel bullets here, too, enough to make any man in the German trenches want to keep his head down if he was not buried or eviscerated by high explosive shells.

For hundreds of yards in some places
there was scarcely any semblance of trenches after the French guns had prepared the way for the French infantry.
It was as if the trenches had been dynamited systematically. No charges plotted out checker-board fashion.

At other places where the destruction
had not been so complete it was possible to see what the German trenches were like and with what amazing thoroughness and care they had been built.
To a layman they seemed impregnable.
Down these slanting shafts under the parapets were caves 20 and 30 feet deep for refuge in a bombardment. In many cases the openings had been closed by the descent of a ton or more of earth
from the parapet from the concussion of a large-caliber howitzer shell, and all the men within were buried alive.

The fate of those who were in the trench itself was often to be buried in fragments of flesh and bone, blown into the soil by the explosions. The German guns could not fire on the French infantry as they reached the barbed wire for fear of hitting the Germans in the trenches and the French fire stopped for fear of hitting the Germans. Where an inferno of explosions had raged peace reigned over the wreckage wrought by French gunnery, as the French soldiers sprang over the remnants of parapets to face with bayonet and dagger any German that had survived and was in possession of his senses.

"Even those who were," said a soldier,
"often yielded. What would you? We were surrounded them. We summoned those alive out of their dugouts. Thus we took our prisoners. That is, we took those who were alive. The dead and the wounded. Ah! Monsieur, they were more numerous than the prisoners."

It was terrible, Monsieur, and it all happened very fast, Monsieur. The blood was hot. We had waited many months. It was victory. How good the hough-hough of the soixante quinze sounded behind us! How good the scream of our big shells! Then there were the mines we exploded. Have you seen the craters? So big you could almost put the Arc de Triomphe into one of them. We charged into a wall of smoke and dust from the shells and the smoke and dust were still thick when we reached the German trenches."

"And what did you think of when you charged?"
"Of nothing, Monsieur, except to arrive. We ran as fast as we could. The corner we got to those trenches. And better—the less time the Germans had to recover from the shell-fire and begin firing at us."

"Did you get as many Germans as they got of you?"
"More. In the first line trenches many more."
The question a score of times of officers and men always brought the same answer.
It was in the second and third lines of trenches that the French suffered most; for their guns could not always cut the barbed wire or the trenches were so close to the German trenches that the troops swept forward throughout the greatest day in the history of the war on the western front till night found them digging into the earth under cover of the darkness five miles beyond their old first line trenches.

No Woman Need Have Straight, Lank Hair

Instead of burning the life out of your hair with a heated curling iron, you can add to its life by using plain liquid silverine, and at the same time secure a far better and prettier result. Your hair will have a delightful curl and natural wavy appearance, no matter in what form it is done up. If you will simply apply a little of this hairdresser's fluid at night with a clean toothbrush, drawing
this through the hair from root to tip.
A few ounces of liquid silverine from the drugist will last you a long while.
This will not spot the scalp or streak
the hair, and it is neither sticky nor greasy. It is without question the best hair curling method yet found, and no doubt will soon be as popular here as it is abroad.—ADV.

Pretzinger's for Catarrh.

"Pretzinger's For Catarrh" should be the watchword of every citizen of this country who values health, efficiency and the valuable sense of hearing. For catarrh is disgusting, embarrassing and dangerous too.
Neglected nasal catarrh soon spreads through the system and often attacks the organs which give us the sense of hearing—causing deafness, so distressing to all. Get rid of catarrh by regularly using Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, fifty cents at dealers.
It has proven a boon to thousands and has been on the market years.
If you've never tried it, get a jar today—or a Free sample by address-

Philippine Bill to Come Up Again.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The bill to give a greater measure of self-government to the Philippines, which failed of passage by Congress at the last session,

istration program for the next session.
Congress also will be urged to give citi-

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "meat-ness" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying.
First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It is a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women believe, can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.
Sargol does not make you fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fat, sugars and starches of your meals into rich, ripe, fat-producing nourishment for the tissues.
Blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of the nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop this and do it quickly and to make the fat-producing content of your meals
you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Judge & Dolph Drug Co.'s 3 stores, 1001-1003
Co. Weipert Drug Co., Johnson-Ende-rby Drug Co. and other stores and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large bottles—each bottle a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.—ADV.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINTS

To whiten and beautify the complexion permanently we have found no better preparation than a lotion made by dissolving four ounces of spermacin in a half pint of hot water,
then adding two teaspoonsful glycerin.
This removes any pimples, shiny, muddy or sallow appearance, and will make anyone's skin clear, smooth and velvety. It does not show or rub off like powder; in fact, it seems a part of the skin; and for removing tan and freckles is unequalled.
It is necessary to shampoo more frequently in the warmer weather because of excessive dust and the fact that the head perspires more and is usually more exposed to the weather.
The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers can be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as very beneficial to scalp and hair. After rinsing, the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—ADV.

TELLS POLICE HE STABBED MAN

John C. Stanford Held After He Says He Was Robbed.

James Kelly, 37, of 1614 North Fifteenth street, who was found at Eleventh street and Clark avenue at 7 o'clock last night suffering from three stab wounds, told the police the wounds had been inflicted by two women. He was sent to the city hospital. Later John C. Stanford, 31, South Twenty-first street, told the police he had stabbed one of two men who had robbed him of $45 at Twelfth and Poplar streets. He identified Kelly as the man he had stabbed.

When Stanford was searched $42 was found in his pocket. He was ordered held for investigation. Kelly did not identify Stanford as his assailant.

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCardell.

Mr. Jarr Enacts the Genial Host, Merely Omitting the Geniality.

MR. JARR was not scolded for getting home long after dark and long past the dinner hour. In fact, the dinner hour had been postponed on account of company and extra delicacies to be cooked in consequence, as Mr. Jarr was to learn.

Mrs. Jarr met him at the door, all smiles and pleasurable excitement. "Where's my husband?" cried Mrs. Jarr. "He's here," said Mr. Jarr. "Where?" "Jarr could guess, his good wife broke the happy news. 'It's Maude Mickett! You remember, you always thought so much of her.'"

Mr. Jarr could not remember the lady but he nodded affirmatively. "And she isn't Maude Mickett any more, she's Mrs. Hoker now. Her husband is with her. They are on their honeymoon. Just been married a week, and it's the happiest marriage, too!"

"Most marriages are, first week or so," said Mr. Jarr.

"Now, don't try to be smart, and please don't be cynical when you're talking to Maude and Claude. Doesn't that sound sweet—Maude and Claude? It's just like poetry."

Mr. Jarr was led into the front room and he was introduced to the happy couple. The bride was a determined looking lady of some 30 summers, with the expression of a hobby horse, spots on cheek and all. The bridegroom was a docile individual, with hair so neatly parted that Mr. Jarr's suspicion that it was a wig was confirmed by a later and closer observation.

Mr. Claude Hoker, the happy groom, so to speak, had also the fading remnants of a black eye. Mr. Jarr, desiring to be jolly and set the unfortunate captive at his ease, remarked gaily that it was rather early in the game for the groom to have "a mouse on his nose."

The slang allusion was comprehended and the remark properly resented. The bride and bridegroom and Mrs. Jarr all explained at once that it was a shoe thrown, after the wedding ceremony, a week before, that had started the young husband on the sea of matrimony with one eye closed and swollen.

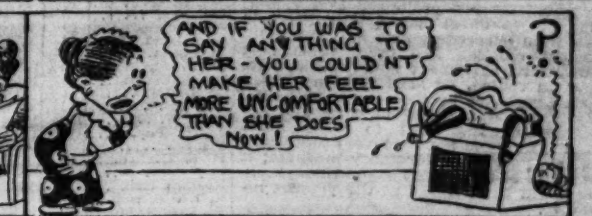

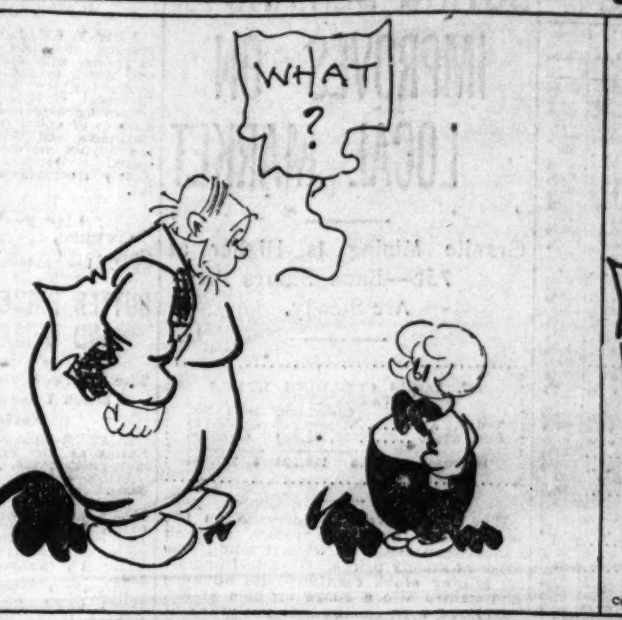

After dinner Mrs. Jarr and the bride displayed symptoms of desiring to be alone together for the imparting of advice on how to train a husband on the part of Mrs. Jarr. Mrs. Jarr voiced this by remarking:

"Now, you two men run out and play, as Maude and I have a lot to say to each other."

"Yes," rushed the bride, "Claude and I are not the mushy sort of newlyweds, thank goodness! and you can take my precious comports-comports out with you and stay as long as you like."

Then followed some Graeco-Roman and catch-as-catch-can embraces for about 10 minutes, and then Mr. Jarr was permitted to take the bridegroom out into the open air. But if only

'SMATTER POP?

Episode 3770

he had kept him out in the open air!

Instead, he took him into the corner and introduced him to Gus. Rangle and a few other friends.

"There is only one thing that can happen when unsophisticated young married men fall into the clutches of such wretches—and it happened. During the happening the bridegroom endeavored himself to all present in Gus by giving imitations of great men past and present from Beethoven to Rockefeller, by the aid of his trained wig.

Then Mr. Jarr led him home when Gus put them all out.

Mrs. Jarr and a weeping bride met Mr. Jarr and the bridegroom at the door. Mrs. Jarr gave her husband a story stare. The bride went into hysterics, at which the bridegroom hiccoughed and sat down in a chair, but missed the chair. He was hauled to the sofa, and forced to drink water copiously. It had no effect on the hiccoughs for quite some time.

"Perhaps a terrible fright will stop them!" cried the bride. "See, Claude, my darling, there is a mouse, a terrible mouse, approaching you ferociously!"

The bridegroom aimed a blow at the supposititious mouse and fell over onto the floor. At this (after a glance from Mrs. Jarr, which seemed to say, "Now or never you assume command") the bride seized upon the helpless bridegroom and haled him off, and his shrieks were pitiful to hear.

Mr. Jarr shuddered, but remained neutral.

When Gus asked him later: "What happened that young fellow?" Mr. Jarr replied: "His wife snatched him bald-headed!"

Which was true in every sense.

WITH each first-born baby brought into the world a new and altogether different kind of mother, also, is born.

Ain't Mabel Awful?

MOTHER," said little Mabel, who lives in Portland, Me., "do missionaries go to heaven?" "Why, of course, dear!" "Do cannibals?" "No, I'm afraid they don't!" "But, mother," the little girl insisted, "if a cannibal eats a missionary he'll have to go, won't he?"

Famous Fidgets.
DEAR me! George's supper will get cold if he doesn't come pretty soon!

"Dang it! I'm all ready for the theater—what's keeping Mary?" "Where's that waiter gone-out to CATCH a fish so they can broil one for me?"

"For the love of Mike, ain't they running but one car on the Tower Grove line this morning?" "Confound it! There goes my collar button under the bureau again."

"Great Caesar's ghost! Ain't that phonograph next door ever going to get tired and quit?" "Honest, fellows, drink 'er up and let's go. When I get home my wife's going to bawl me something awful."

"What's become of my change, girlie? I don't want to hang around this department store all day."

"Hey, Marie! come upstairs for a moment. There ain't two of any of these socks in this drawer mates."

HE mistake some persons make is in trying to come back when they have never been anywhere.

Here comes a mere man and says another reason why women could not be called morning glories is because they don't shut up in the evening.
